THE MIDEAST AT A GLANCE

BEIRUT — Saudi Arabia ordered general mobilization of its forces in the Arab-Israeli crisis over border incidents and an Egyptian threat to blockade Israeli shipping. Iraq said it would send land and air forces to support Egypt and Syria. King Hussein of Jordan urged Arab unity in the face of what he called Israel's threat.

UNITED NATIONS—The Security Council, meeting in urgent session, heard the Soviet Union demand withdrawal of the U.S. and British fleets from the Mediterranean. The Russians, supporting the Arabs, did not reject U.S., British and French moves for diplomatic attempts to solve the crisis by diplomatic means, possibly at a Big Four conference.

CAIRO — U.N. Secretary-General U Thant began talks with Egyptian leaders in effort to avert war in the Mideast. The U.N. Security Council is expected to await his return to New York tonight before setting a time for another meeting. Thant was reported "highly disturbed" at the convening of the council during his absence.

TEL AVIV — There were signs in Israel of preparation for possible war, such as a noticeable decrease in the streets of young men of military age.

WASHINGTON — Some senators called for a prompt U.S. challenge to Egypt's declared blockade of the gulf. Others warned against any singlehanded moves. U.S. and British officials conferred on joint policy.

THE LAST TOWERS

The towers of the 100-year-old church on Third street near the Municipal Building are dark against the night sky. HIGHER BY $6 BILLION

Vietnam War Costs Race to $28 Billion

By EDWIN L. DALE JR.

(c) N.Y. Times News Service

WASHINGTON — Estimates accepted by the House Appropriations Committee show the cost of the war in Vietnam in the forthcoming fiscal year to be $6 billion higher than the $22 billion figure in President Johnson's budget in January, even without a decision to increase the planned level of troops in Vietnam.

This was learned from authoritative congressional sources yesterday as the House Ways and Means Committee approved a massive increase in the ceiling on the national debt to $365 billion. The ceiling is now $336 billion.

The higher war cost, if it materializes, would bring total defense spending in the new fiscal year to nearly $80 billion, up about $10 billion from the latest estimate for the current year, which ends June 30.

Such a prospect would add to the urgency of the Administration's request for a tax increase this year, and perhaps raise the size of the already requested increase from the proposal of 6 per cent income tax surcharge. The President has not yet "triggered" his request through a message to Congress, and he could change the amount at any time.

The figures accepted by the Appropriations Committee, which is finishing its work on the defense money bill, are close to estimates reportedly reached by the Senate preparedness subcommittee, headed by John Stennis, D-Miss.

Both groups now believe, it has been learned, that spending will not be as far above the original budget estimate as last year, some $10 billion. But both are convinced, on the basis of detailed estimates, that the defense spending total will be well above the budget figure of $73 billion.

The Appropriations Committee may include in its report on the defense money bill its conclusions about the outlook for both spending and the probable need for a supplemental appropriation at the beginning of 1968. However, this has not yet been decided.

The committee, it was learned, will reduce the Administration's appropriations request for defense by about $1.5 billion, all of it in areas not directly connected with the war. But these reductions will have little immediate effect on expenditures and will leave intact the estimate that spending will be about $6 billion above the budget estimate.

The Ways and Means Committee action yesterday gave the Administration the debt ceiling it wanted. Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler told the committee that a $365 billion ceiling should be enough to accommodate the government's borrowing requirements for both the next fiscal year, 1968, and fiscal 1969.

However, the committee bill would give the administration difficulty in two respects.

First, the panel approved very little relaxation of the present ceiling of 4 1/4 per cent in the interest the Treasury can pay on securities with a maturity of more than five years.

It refused Fowler's request for an exemption for up to $2 billion worth of long-term bonds in the new fiscal year. And it extended to only seven years, instead of the requested ten.

Second, the committee gave what may be a death blow to the device used by the Administration to reduce recorded budget expenditures, the deficit and the national debt—the sale of "participation certificates" in pools of outstanding government loans.

The committee yesterday wrote into the debt limit bill a provision that would require to count as part of the national debt.

If P.C.'s are barred, or rendered useless in budget terms, and if defense expenditures run $6 billion ahead of the estimate, exceed $20 billion, even if a tax increase is enacted. Without the tax increase it would exceed $25 billion.

U.S. TAKES TOUGH LINE

Warns Egypt on Blockade

By ERIC PACE

(c) N.Y. Times News Service

CAIRO — The United States government has officially but privately warned the United Arab Republic that it considers the Egyptian blockade of the Gulf of Aqaba an "act of aggression" and will act against it by all possible means, it was learned yesterday.

Informed sources said the warning did not exclude the use of force against the U.A.R., if necessary.

But the U.S. made clear to the U.A.R., sources said, that it would only consider forcible action to break the anti-Israeli blockade after it had exhausted all other possible courses of action, inside and outside the United Nations.

U.N. Secretary-General Thant met here with U.A.R. Foreign Minister Mahmoud Riad yesterday, but a U.N. spokesman declined to say what was discussed in the two-hour, 20-minute meeting other than that the two men had "exchanged views on aspects of the Mideast situation."

Thant has been asked by Johnson to press Egyptians to lift their blockade of the Gulf of Aqaba, Israel's only naval outlet to the south and east and a key access route for oil imports to Israel.

Evidence Confirms Mined Straits; Adds New Tensions

By JOHN W. FINNEY

(c) N.Y. Times News Service

WASHINGTON — After a day of attempting to ease the crisis in the Middle East through face-saving diplomatic gestures, the United States received evidence last night that the United Arab Republic has mined the Straits of Tiran. It was not disclosed how the evidence was acquired.

This added serious new tensions and greatly complicated diplomatic efforts to find a solution to the Arab-Israeli confrontation.

Al Ahram, the authoritative Egyptian newspaper, reported early yesterday that the United Arab Republic had mined the entrance of the Gulf of Aqaba. But the State Department was highly skeptical of this report until United States government sources reported late yesterday that Egypt was believed to have scattered mines in the Straits, which lead into the gulf, as well as some in the gulf.

Of potentially greater significance than the hazard to shipping, however, in the opinion of the U.S. officials were the new political complications introduced by the mining.

Officials here initially had been doubtful that Nasser would take such a drastic step, partly because it would undermine his legal case in attempting to close the Straits to Israeli shipping. Officials, therefore, had been initially skeptical of reports from Cairo earlier in the day that the Straits had been mined.

Since Israel and Cairo formally are still in a state of war, Nasser can make a legal case that he is only protecting Egyptian national security by preventing the shipping of a belligerent from passing through his nation's territorial waters. But if he blocks off the Straits completely by mining, it was pointed out, he would be directly challenging the principle that the Straits is an international waterway, open to "free and innocent passage" by foreign ships.

By mining the Straits, therefore, Nasser would be provoking a confrontation extending far beyond Israel. In effect, he would be challenging the maritime nations by the world as well as imperiling the economic future of Jordan, whose sole outlet to the sea is the port of Aqaba at the head of the gulf.

Nasser also has greatly complicated the present diplomatic efforts to find some face-saving way out of the present crisis, it was noted by officials.

As long as the blockade exists—

U.S. SPREAD THIN

Mobilization May be Needed

By HANSON W. BALDWIN

N.Y. Times Military Editor

(c) N.Y. Times News Service

NEW YORK — Major intervention by the United States in any major war in the Middle East would require mobilization, if the testimony of military leaders is a guide.

The Joint Chiefs of Staff and other military leaders have told Congress repeatedly in recent testimony that any protracted combat, in addition to that in Vietnam, could not long be sustained without a call-up of reserve forces and a material increase in the production rates of munitions.

Nevertheless, the United States has what the military men call a "rapid-reaction capability" of considerable size and power for limited intervention in the dispute between Israel and the Arab states.

U.S. power could be applied and sustained in the Middle Eastern area for a considerable period as a peace-keeping force, without mobilization if there were no shooting or if the combat were very limited.

The major force in the area is the U.S. Sixth Fleet, now commanded by Vice Admiral William I. Martin. The fleet acts as the NATO Strike Force South under specified circumstances.

The Sixth Fleet today consists of about 50 ships and 25,000 men, including the attack carriers America and Saratoga, and the anti-submarine warfare carrier Intrepid. The fleet has about 200 aircraft assigned, including modern jets, and has a special landing force of 1,500 to 2,000 Marines, embarked aboard amphibious ships.

The Sixth Fleet is a powerful enough force to blast its way ashore, or to intervene by air within range of its planes, anywhere in the eastern Mediterranean. But it would be undoubtedly harried by small Soviet ed only in the threats of Nasser, it was pointed out by officials, the way was must easier to find some diplomatic solution. But since mines have now been planted, then a blockade exists in fact and some international action will be required to clear the area or to force their clearing by Nasser. U.S. officials who were naval forces in the Mediterranean and by the nine Soviet-type submarines operated by the Egyptians.

Another small U. S. naval force — the so-called Middle East Force — under Rear Admiral W. L. Small, operates south of Suez. Small has two destroyers under his command. One destroyer was reported in the Red Sea area Tuesday; the other was in the Madagascar Strait.

Small answers to the Unified Strike Command, which has headquarters at MacDill Air Force Base, Tampa, Fla.

Presumably, an emergency in the Middle East immediately would involve the strike command, which might furnish a command element and an air-transported reaction force.

The U.S. also could call upon units in Germany and in this country for rapid reinforcement. The units in Germany are assigned to NATO but, presumably, a brigade or more of the three infantry divisions the U.S. maintains in Germany, and perhaps an armored task force drawn from one of the two armored divisions, could be shipped by air and sea to the Middle East after notification to the NATO Council.

U.S. Offers To Work With Russ

(c) N.Y. Times News Service
UNITED NATIONS — The United States offered yesterday to work directly with Britain, France and the Soviet Union for quick elimination of threats to peace in the Middle East.

The offer came just before the U.N. was startled by word that Secretary General Thant was cutting short his peace mission to Cairo and returning to New York tonight instead of Friday. No explanation of the change was available, but it was not considered to indicate any degree of success.

Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg said the U.S. was prepared to work outside the United Nations as well as inside it to preserve peace.

Goldberg's offer, in an emergency meeting of the Security Council, seemed to be a response to a statement attributed to General Charles de Gaulle that the great powers must solve the crisis.

Goldberg said that "great powers have both interests and responsibilities" in keeping world peace and "the greater the power, the greater the responsibility."

In this spirit, he told the council: "I am authorized to announce that the United States, both within and outside the United Nations, is prepared to join with all the other great powers—the Soviet Union, the United Kingdom and France—in a common effort to restore and maintain peace in the Near East."

OBITUARIES

Former Resident's Son Killed in Vietnam War

The body of a Medina, N.Y., Marine, whose grandfather and father are former Warren residents, will arrive in Medina today for burial.

The Marine, Cpl. LeRoy Keller, was killed in Vietnam on May 12, just two days before he was to have left for the United States upon completion of his tour of duty. He was killed by a hand grenade.

His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth L. Keller of Medina. His father resided in Warren until World War II, when he enlisted in the service. The dead Marine's grandfather is LeRoy Keller, who resided in Warren until he retired and moved to Medina.

In a letter written on April 30, Cpl. Keller told his parents that he was looking forward to starting home.

Other survivors include two brothers, Raymond of Medina, and Eric of Middleport; a sister, Mrs. Katherine Skellen of Brockport; and an aunt, Mrs. Joseph Guiffre of Warren.

Services will be held at 2 p.m. in Medina, with burial in Medina's Boswood Cemetery.

Franklin H. Nordland

Franklin H. Nordland, 50, a Warren County native of Jamestown, N.Y., died at 3:15 a.m. Wednesday, May 24, 1967 at WCA Hospital.

He had been employed as a carpenter by several Jamestown contractors.

Born in Akeley, July 6, 1916, he was the son of Helmar and Helen Peterson Nordland. He resided in Akeley until moving to Jamestown in 1948.

He married the former Margaret Sears on August 24, 1945. He is survived by his wife and mother; a son, Boyd A. Nordland and daughter, Pamela K. Nordland, both of Jamestown; two sisters, Mrs. John Fortune, Buffalo, N.Y. and Mrs. Clifford Wiltsie, North Clymer, N.Y. Several nieces and nephews also survive.

He was preceded in death by one sister, Mrs. Madeline Szymczak.

Friends will be received at the Lind Funeral Home in Jamestown from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m. today.

Funeral services will be conducted at 3 p.m. tomorrow at Kinder Memorial EUB Church with the Rev. Dr. H. Ray Harris, pastor, officiating.

Burial is in Pine Grove Cemetery, Russell.

Mrs. Kermit R. Vicander

Mildred Munson Vicander, 57, of Irvine, a native and long-time resident of that community, died at 4:27 p.m. yesterday, May 24, 1967, in Warren General Hospital.

She was born on Oct. 2, 1909, the daughter of Alfred and Esther Lawson Munson, and was married to Kermit R. Vicander on June 16, 1938. She was a member of Irvine Presbyterian Church and Youngville Chapter of the Order of Eastern Star.

Surviving, in addition to her husband and her father of Dresser Memorial Presbyterian Home of Bradford, are a daughter, Mrs. Hals (Cynthia) Larsen of Redmond, Wash.; a son, Robert with the U.S. Army in Vietnam; a brother, Willard of Massillon, Ohio; a grandson, Leif Larsen of Redmond, Wash.; and several nieces and nephews.

She was preceded in death by her mother, Esther Lawson Munson.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday at McKinney Funeral Home, Youngville with the Rev. Nelson Horne of Irvine Presbyterian Church officiating. Burial is to be in Warren County Memorial Park.

Friends may call at the funeral home from 7 to 9 p.m. today and from 2 to 4 p.m. and from 7 to 9 p.m. tomorrow.

The family requests that in lieu of flowers, memorials be made to Warren County Cancer Society.

President May

Go To Canada

OTTAWA (AP) — The Canadian Press said last night it has learned that President Johnson may fly to Canada today for a one-day visit that would include talks with Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson on the Middle East crisis.

In Washington, the White House said it had no information on the reported plan for the President to fly to Canada.

Kane Woman Still In Poor Condition

A Kane woman, Dorothy Carol Smith, 63, was reported to still be in poor condition last night following a two-car accident Tuesday night on Route 66, near Fryburg in Clarion county.

According to Tonesta State Police she is suffering from a possible fractured skull and other body and leg injuries.

Her car crossed the highway, hit a car operated by John Bigley of Venus and then went into some guard rails.

Mined

caught by surprise by Nasser's initial move to close the Straits were unable to offer any explanation as to why the Egyptian leader had now apparently chosen to take such a further drastic step as planting mines.

The Nasser move, however, was interpreted as further evidence that the Egyptian leader was prepared to push the crisis much further than had been expected by American officials.

Publicly, the Administration was still trying to leave the door open to a face-saving retreat by Nasser by suggesting earlier on the day that an Egyptian blockade might not yet have been imposed on the Gulf of Aqaba.

In a deliberate ploy aimed at Cairo, the State Department said it "remains to be seen" whether Cairo had carried out its announced intention of closing the gulf. The statement by a State Department spokesman was made before the intelligence information was received confirming the mining.

As it maneuvered for time to cool off the crisis, the Administration obviously was in no hurry to test the blockade either in words or in acts.

At the same time it was appreciated that the maneuvering time was limited, since it was generally accepted that Israel would be content to wait for only a few days before moving to lift the blockade to its southern port of Elath. And the fear was that the Israeli patience may be shortened by the news that the gulf area had been mined.

In the opinion of U.S. officials, the Egyptian move to close the Straits of Tiran has now become the critical element in the Middle East crisis.

What American officials had anticipated would be only another Arab-Israeli "war of nerves" suddenly developed into a serious military confrontation on Monday evening when Nasser declared his intention now to "allow the Israeli flag to pass through the Aqaba Gulf."

The Israeli government has said repeatedly that any blockade of its shipping through the Gulf of Aqaba would be viewed as "an act of aggression."

President Johnson reviewed the situation during the day at a meeting of the National Security Council. He also met briefly with Dr. Mostafa Kamel the United Arab Republic's ambassador, who was paying a "farewell call" scheduled before the crisis developed.

Jungquist Named As Jamestown Demo Candidate

JAMESTOWN—F. David Jungquist of 149 Maple st., has been named by a committee to be the Democratic candidate to city councilman from the fourth ward.

The vacancy committee was called into action when incumbent Democratic councilman Joseph C. Spitalo of 176 Barrows st. declined the nomination earlier this week. He said that circumstances which were unforeseen at the time his petitions were filed with the board of elections at Mayville, N.Y., forced his declination.

Jungquist is a former member of the Chautauque County Board of Supervisors, having served six years representing the fourth and fifth wards of the city of Jamestown. The father of three children, he is an employee of Jamestown Metal Corporation and a member of IAM Lodge 1558.

Briefly Speaking

Michael Constable, 11 of 9 Belmont dr., suffered a laceration of the back yesterday evening after he had been bitten by a dog near his home.

A brush ground fire burned three acres of land yesterday afternoon on Quaker Hill rd. Fire units from Glade Twp. and North Warren extinguished the blaze, which also was observed by U.S. Forest Service officials.

An Erie man, Paul Robinson of 2629 Mertle st., lost control of his small auto yesterday evening on Hemlock rd., one-half mile east of Warren. The car reportedly hit a dip, went through a guard rail and caught on the rail cable. The car stopped at the edge of an 80-foot embankment.

Israel

withdraw from his pledge to bar the Straits of Ritan to Israeli shipping. It remained the general belief among Israelis that military force would be used to open the straits if international efforts failed.

According to published reports, two ships carrying Israeli flags passed through the Straits Tuesday on their way from Elath, Israel's southernmost port on the Red Sea.

The report, which government officials declined to confirm, said that both ships had left Monday. The ships reported Tuesday morning that they had cleared the Straits. It was Monday night that Nasser said he had closed it.

The significance of their passage remained obscure, however, as it was not clear when they actually passed through the Straits. Since then, Nasser has said he has mined the entrance to the Gulf of Aqaba.

Meanwhile, efforts have been reported in several quarters to being former Premier David Ben-Gurion into the political picture. Ben-Gurion, who led the nation during the 1948 Arab-Israeli war and the Sinai campaign in 1956, has not offered his views on the current situation.

Blockade

ference he has scheduled for Sunday, his first in recent years.

The government-controlled Cairo press yesterday reported that the U.A.R. had set out sea mines in the area to narrow access to the gulf and facilitate control over entering vessels.

Informed sources said the U.A.R. seemed bent on maintaining the blockade.

Informants said the Egyptian government has, however, not dismissed the possibility of creating a mixed Egyptian-Israeli commission under the U.N. truce supervisory organization to assume some of UNEF's peace keeping functions.

Neutral diplomats here said, however, that whatever remote chance Thant had of persuading Nasser to lift the blockade had been dimmed by Johnson's public announcement Tuesday that the U.S. had asked him to press the issue in his talks here.

In the past few days the U.A.R. has mounted an anti-American propaganda campaign vitriolic even by Middle East standards, saying Washington had manipulated Israeli policy.

If Nasser lifted the Aqaba blockade now, these sources said, it would appear he was doing so under American pressure.

Three Railyards Bombed in Viet

(C) N.Y. Times News Service
SAIGON — American planes resumed attacks against North Vietnam yesterday with strikes at three major railroad yards near Hanoi.

A military spokesman said full-scale raids began as soon as the 24-hour truce for Buddha's birthday ended at one minute after midnight.

Fighter-bombers blasted the rail yards at Thanhuyen, 37 miles north of Hanoi, at Viet-tri, 35 miles northwest of the capital, and at Phutho, 50 miles northwest.

Thanhuyen is the site of a major steel mill and power plant. The other two rail yards are on the Red River rail line linking Hanoi with Communist China.

The spokesman said reports indicated there was no unusual traffic in North Vietnam during the truce, in contrast with the four-day military standdown during the lunar new year in early February when reconnaissance reports disclosed a major movement of military supplies southward.

Although American and allied forces went on the offensive again on the ground, there were no immediate reports of significant contact.

During the truce period U.S. headquarters in Saigon reported 73 incidents, 31 of which were listed as "significant."

Twelve Americans were killed and 57 wounded in the incidents. Fifty-one North Vietnamese regulars and Viet Cong guerrillas were killed and 16 suspects held for questioning.

Nuremberg Precedent Is Defense

(C) N.Y. Times News Service
FORT JACKSON, S.C. — Defense witnesses in the court-martial of Capt. Howard B. Levy testified yesterday that the Green Berets had a permissive policy towards the torture of Viet Cong prisoners by the South Vietnamese.

But the hearing, believed to be unprecedented in American military justice, failed to produce a witness with first-hand knowledge of torture or any atrocious act committed directly by an American in Vietnam.

Donald Duncan, a former master sergeant in the Green Berets testified that he had once been ordered by radio to "get rid of" four-Viet Cong prisoners taken near An Khe.

If he decides that Charles Morgan Jr., the chief defense counsel has failed to make a prima facie case of war crimes, the "Nuremberg aura" of this proceeding will be shattered and the court-martial will revert to the issues of whether Levy is guilty of willful refusal to obey an order, of attempting to incite disloyalty, and of conduct unbecoming an officer and gentleman.

aircraft—the federal government and the Pennsylvania Railroad made the first public test yesterday of the line's new high-speed passenger train.

The four-car train hurtled through Princeton Junction twice yesterday, so fast that newspaper photographers and television cameramen could hardly make their pictures. It will provide a new high speed service between New York and Washington, which the Pennsy is scheduled to begin on Oct. 29. The railroad expects to cut the travel time between the two cities from 3 hours and 45 minutes to about 3 hours.

By 1970 the line hopes to increase the speed so that the run can be made in 2 1/2 hours. This would make railroad service competitive with shuttle air service and perhaps begin to reverse the 50 per cent loss in rail passenger service since World War II.

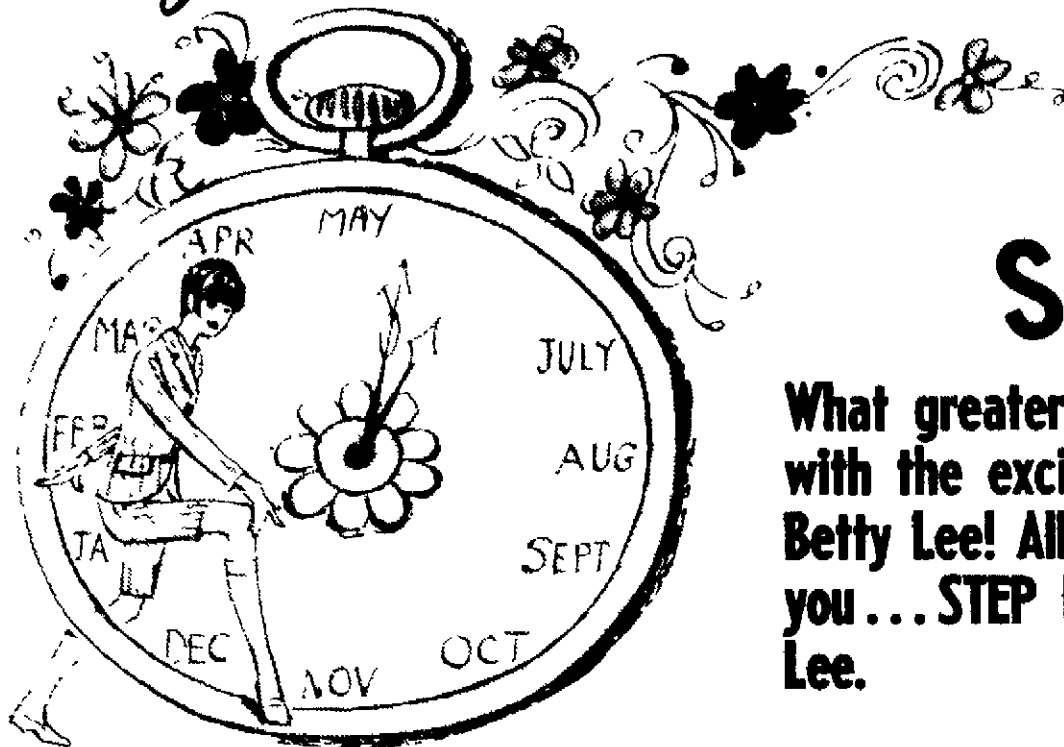

The U.S. Department of Transportation has been conducting speed trials on a 21-mile stretch of track between Trenton and New Brunswick since last fall. Robert A. Nelson, director of the department's office of high speed ground transportation, called the stretch "the most manicured railroad track in the world."

The speed of yesterday's test train is not as fast as the 183.8 miles an hour achieved by a New York Central train last July in Ohio. That was powered with a turbojet engine.

French engineers made an electrically-powered train go 206 miles an hour in 1955, and the Japanese have been running a train between Tokyo and Osaka at 125 miles per hour for several years.

Noise, But Little Music

If anything, the present activity of the Allegheny National Forest staff in developing the recreational potential of the highly publicized Allegheny Reservoir Recreational Complex reminds one of a small boy playing a drum-lots of noise, but little music.

Not a single major unit of the proposed complex has been completed and dedicated to public use since the Forest Service, after a heated controversy, was designated as the supervising agency over the U.S. Corps of Engineers in 1964.

In the meantime, though, there has been a considerable expansion of the local office to accommodate the many engineers, planners, recreational experts and landscape designers added to the staff to expedite the construction and completion of the various projects. Each appointment was covered with a news release that implied immediate action was to be expected.

The type of action Warren County had every right to expect.

For at the time the ANF was pushing to become the "agency in charge" at the reservoir complex they had the unqualified support of the Chamber of Commerce, the county commissioners, the Warren County Planning Commission and a number of civic and fraternal organizations.

At the time, one local paper said: "A snow ball rolling from the Hill-top has reached gigantic proportions today in a tremendous testimonial for the Allegheny National Forest to be designated as agency to be in charge of recreation in the reservoir area."

Yet the time has come when this recreational complex they so wanted to control should be completed and operational, but isn't. Projects that were promised at that time are still on the planning boards or in various stages of lackadaisical construction.

This might have been anticipated. For prior to being designated as the "agency in charge," the ANF had maintained a perfect 20-year record of planning promising and procrastinating in all matters of recreational development. The only exception was the development of Jake's Rocks and Rimrock during the push to get control of the reservoir complex.

But the pressing problem is not what we have missed in the past, but what we can expect in the future. And as it stands right now, that is a very important problem.

Thank Dodd It's Not Garrison

WASHINGTON -- Sen. Russell Long, the Senate whip, who has become Sen. Dodd's most avid defender, revealed last week that Eberhardt Deutsch, "one of the greatest trial lawyers of all time," had offered his services free of charge to get Sen. Dodd out of the pickle he's in with his Senate colleagues over the ethics issue.

Sen. Long also revealed that at one time Jim Garrison, the New Orleans district attorney, had volunteered his services to help Sen. Dodd, but since Garrison became so involved in his own version of the Kennedy assassination, Sen. Long said, "I wouldn't presume to call on him now."

I can't help thinking, on the basis of his performance in the past few months, that the fact that Garrison is tied up is probably the best break Sen. Dodd has had so far. You wonder how Garrison would have defended Sen. Dodd if he had the chance.

First, Garrison would probably call a press conference and announce he was going to subpoena all six members of the Senate Ethics Committee to testify before a grand jury. "Why are you going to do that?" he would be asked.

"Because I believe there's a definite conspiracy between the Senate committee, the CIA, the FBI and Oswald. I can't reveal more than that at this moment."

"But what would that have to do with Sen. Dodd?" "Nothing, but it has a lot to do with Cuba. I can assure you there will be a conviction if I have anything to say about it."

"Mr. Garrison, Sen. Dodd has been charged with using $116,000 raised at political testimonial dinners for his own personal use. How do you plan to answer that?" "That $116,000 was not a money figure but was a code used by the ethics committee to contact certain people in Dallas. If you subtract 23,456 from that figure and then add all the odd pages in the World Almanac and then divide this by the days in the month of May, you'll discover that the number you arrive at corresponds exactly with Jack Ruby's telephone number."

"But this doesn't answer the charge that the testimonial dinners were advertised as political events and the people who attended them did not know they were paying off Dodd's personal debts."

"I will produce witnesses who have undergone hypnosis and who will testify they knew in advance what kind of dinners they were attending. Only someone under hypnosis knows the real truth about these affairs."

"What else will you do, Mr. Garrison?"

"I plan to issue warrants for the arrest of the four employees who stole Sen. Dodd's correspondence and I will prove beyond a shadow of a doubt that they all had a party two weeks before Dodd fired them. I will also produce as a key witness a narcotics addict who will swear that he saw Drew Pearson and Jack Anderson in a heated discussion with David Ferrie just days before Sen. Dodd gave his fifth testimonial dinner."

"You sound like a solid case." "I do, and anyone who says I don't will be indicted for perjury."

"Then from what you say this thing is much bigger than just an ethics question in the Senate."

"It certainly is. I may have to inject the entire Senate before I'm finished, but I'll get to the bottom of this or I'm not the Jolly Green Giant."

I am not saying this is exactly how Garrison would have handled Dodd's case, but on the basis of his track record so far, I think Sen. Dodd can thank his lucky stars he got Eberhardt Deutsch instead.

LBJ Rejected Advice

WASHINGTON--Despite the step-up in the war against North Vietnam, President Johnson has flatly rejected recommendations from the Joint Chiefs of Staff that we mine the port of Haiphong and destroy the Red River dikes.

Bombing of the dikes would flood farm lands and bring famine to the tormented little country. Sir Robert Thompson, the anti-guerrilla expert who was brought to Saigon to reconstruct the South Vietnamese police force along the lines of the one he set up in Malaysia, has said the bombing of the dikes would make the North Vietnamese "suck their teeth."

A secret White House report points out, however, that South Vietnam also has dikes that are vulnerable to guerrilla attack. In return for an embargo on bomber attacks on the Red River dikes, according to the report, Viet Cong saboteurs have been ordered not to blow up river dikes in the South.

Meanwhile, the President is known to regard the Russian ship bumping incidents in the Sea of Japan as a warning against mining the Haiphong port.

His attitude toward the port was explained by Secretary of State Dean Rusk at a private breakfast meeting with 15 key House Republicans. He pointed out that mining the port would provoke the Russians. Continued good relations with Russia are more important, he explained bluntly, than the benefits of shutting down the Haiphong supply terminal.

Out of Chicago, hot off the mimeograph machines of Julius Klein Public Relations, Inc., flies a steady barrage of missives into the nation's newspaper offices, Congressional offices and any other offices whose occupants may have come to the attention of Julius Klein.

The subject of almost all these letters is Julius Klein, who is his own No. 1 client. Into each envelope are stuffed copies of letters, newspaper clippings and other documentation attesting to the greatness of Julius Klein.

The latest launching--99 bulky envelopes addressed to U.S. Senators--hit Capitol Hill only a few days ago. Klein received one reply, however, that he will not reproduce and distribute to his mailing list.

Retaliated Ohio's peppery Sen. Stephen Young: "Acknowledging your seven-page form letter mailed to 99 United States Senators and I note your unmitigated gall and smug unbounded arrogance coupled with limitless self-adulation. 'I am requesting you to remove my name from your mailing list.' 'I am very familiar with your reputation for truth and veracity. Very definitely I would not believe you on oath.'"

In his diplomatic dispatches from Moscow, Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson has suggested that the Kremlin may be deliberately prolonging the Vietnam war in order to make it a political issue in the 1968 American Presidential campaign.

Soviet leaders reportedly are convinced that the Korean war caused the Democrat defeat in 1952 and that North Korea got better trade terms out of President Eisenhower than would have been possible if the Democrats had remained in power.

With this in mind, the Russians may be hoping that President Johnson will go down to defeat in 1968 and that his successor will accept a peace settlement more favorable to the communists.

This may be an added reason for the step-up of Soviet support to North Vietnam.

More Troops Needed in Viet

WASHINGTON -- The steadily intensifying drama of the cruel war in Vietnam is revealed, but never explained by the headlines. Hence, it may be well to summarize recent developments and to show their effects.

By mid-April, in brief, Gen. William C. Westmoreland and his men had begun to achieve downright brilliant results in the huge, strategically vital region of South Vietnam--the many provinces of the I and II Corps areas. Here, in the center of the country, the enemy's big units had been repeatedly defeated. All were being progressively eroded by Gen. Westmoreland's "search and destroy" strategy.

For these very reasons, pacification was at last beginning to make good progress in one or two key areas, such as the rich province of Binh Dinh, which is the key to I Corps. At this juncture, however, and precisely because their big units were in such trouble in I and II Corps, the North Vietnamese began the running battle that is still raging along the northern border of South Vietnam, in I Corps.

For this purpose, Hanoi had to take measures different in character and scope from any that had been taken since the American intervention in 1965. Pre-intervention, in 1964-65, Hanoi had sent two full divisions of the regular North Vietnamese army into South Vietnam to help the Viet Cong win the quick victory that was then expected.

Many more regular troops came down from North Vietnam after the U.S. intervention, but this greatly increased northern invasion of the South was entirely accomplished by calling up conscripts and creating new units. The seven remaining divisions of the North Vietnamese regular army always remained in North Vietnam, until last summer, when one division, with the designation 324B, made the first open invasion of the South across the misnamed demilitarized zone.

This first open invasion had been hurled back, with dreadful losses among the invaders, before last winter's fighting began. What is now happening is another invasion, again open and unconcealed, but on a far larger scale. At least three divisions, or nearly half of the entire North Vietnamese home army, have now pushed wholly or partly across the DMZ.

The invading units are the old 324B Division, the 325th Division and the 341st Division. At least eight of the nine regiments of these divisions have been engaged, at one time or another, in the harsh fighting with the marines that has been going on since late April. Hanoi's massive "escalation" (that non-word, again!) has in turn forced Gen. Westmoreland to borrow from Peter to pay Paul.

Specifically he has already had to strengthen the American forces in I Corps by moving forces from the II and III Corps areas. From Phu Province, which had been well on the way to becoming another Binh Dinh, he had to take the 10th Airborne Brigade. From Tay Ninh Province he took the 196th Light Infantry Brigade.

Finally he also took a brigade of the 25th Division, which had been aiding the 4th Division to contain the pressure from the North Vietnamese units in Cambodian sanctuary. These three brigades now form Task Force Oregon in Southern I Corps, under Maj. Gen. William C. Rosson.

The pressure on the enemy in the strategically vital I and II Corps areas has already been diminished, therefore, by the weight of an entire U.S. division equivalent. This is a deadly serious matter, in itself. For in a war of attrition it is always dangerous to reduce the pressure that causes attrition. And in this particular war, in which pacification is impossible until the enemy's big units have been cut off from the local population, slowing the erosion of these big units simply means slowing down pacification.

As yet, however, this borrowing from Peter to pay Paul has merely produced unfortunate rather than fatal results. But it will surely be fatal, for instance, if Gen. Westmoreland is also forced to move the First Air Cavalry Division before the air cavalry has disposed, for good and all, of their favorite enemy, the Third North Vietnamese Division.

If the air cavalry is moved, and the 3rd North Vietnamese Division gets a chance to make a comeback, all the great gains in Binh Dinh Province will promptly be lost. And if the people of the countryside are thus abandoned once again, it will really be time to say pacification is a task that will require 10 years' time.

This is why Gen. Westmoreland needs at least one more division, and needs it now, to resume the old pressure in I and II Corps and to give him a fair margin of safety for the future.

MASON DENISON

Bureaucratic Publicity

Pennsylvania News Service HARRISBURG -- One of the (many) difficulties in trying to develop a true taxpayer cost figure of Pennsylvania's bureaucratic praise-agent program lies in the ramifications of the program itself.

For example, an innocent title such as "researcher" may be used as a cover-up, which throws anyone off balance in scanning personnel lists for "public information," "public relations" people, etc.

Secondly, an employee may be assigned technically to one department in some sort of administrative capacity but in actuality doing publicity work in another department.

Another "hidden" factor covers such items as material costs which oftentimes are simply lumped together with general departmental operating costs, thus making a breakdown almost impossible.

Telephone costs are perhaps a good illustration of another of the "hidden" figures, which usually are not separated but again are lumped in with general departmental operating costs--and in the opinion of some editors who have received calls from departmental publicists on a picaresque "news" item, telephone tolls in some instances are tremendous. All of these--and more--are factors that pyramid bureaucratic publicity costs (at taxpayer expense of course).

Denison

The question arises constantly as to justification or any sort of real need for such program expenditures--in either Harrisburg or Washington.

There is indeed perhaps a limited need--but nothing approaching the extent to which this praise-agent business now has been carried.

On Capitol Hill today there is a corps of more than a score of professional newspapermen employed by the wire services and newspapers throughout the state whose job it is to cover state government news--and because they represent no political party or group and have no partisan or bureaucratic interest in government, report straight-away what is newsworthy.

This, however, usually does not coincide with the praise-seeking ideas of bureaucrats and political strategists, who, in the hope of getting around what might well be termed these "news filter points," employ the press agency route in the hopes of getting the word through to the newspapers directly.

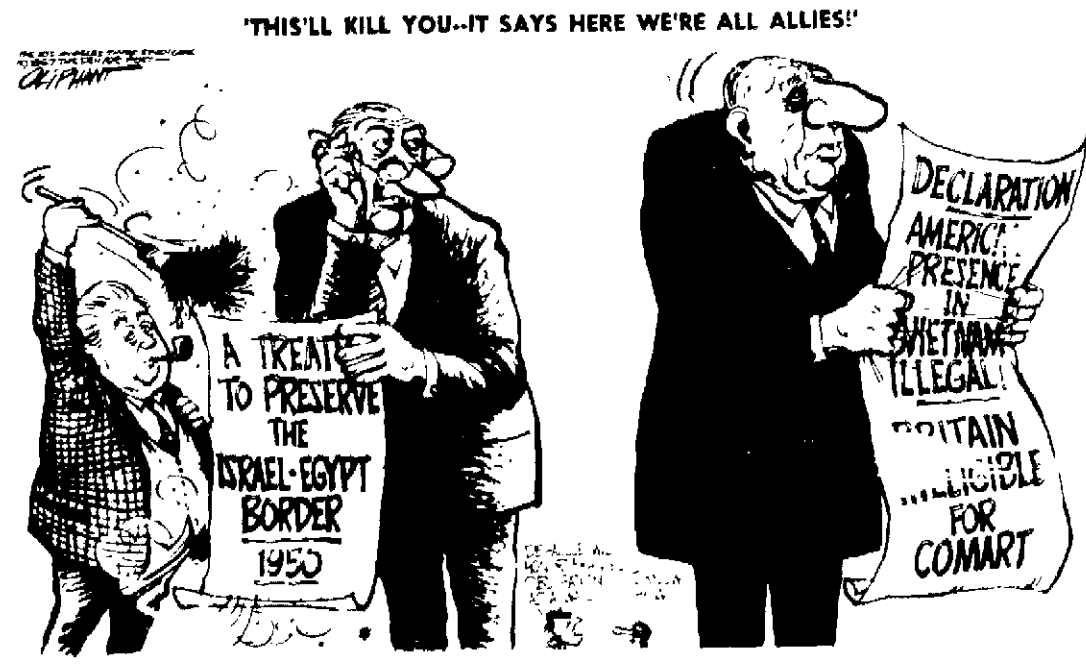

Newspaper editors are alert to this procedure and as a result generally rely upon "news as news is" from the newspaper professionals.

And it is this sort of thing that prompts periodic exasperated seethings from the editors themselves, such as the "Cut It Out" editorial quoted yesterday in this column.

Meanwhile, Pennsylvania taxpayers are paying the piper. On the "professional" side alone, according to Jack Conmy, the Governor's press secretary (who incidentally has developed into a forthright and savvy press aide for Governor's Scranton and Shafer) some 55 people in a score of departments on Capitol Hill are engaged in working with "public relations"--which does not include typists, clerks, etc.

The salary tab for this spectrum alone runs around a half-million dollars a year, according to Mr. Conmy.

The question arises though as to how much of it is really worth, aside of course from the political puff angle.

SYLVIA PORTER

Hidden Pay Checks

Does the company for which you work provide you with free insurance for prescription drugs?

Does your employer pay the cost of college education for your children?

Does your company have a group insurance plan for dental or psychiatric care? Are you allowed a day off with pay for a free medical examination? And for tuition costs of extra education or training you wish to pursue? Free vacations at company-owned resorts? Early retirement without any reduction in your pension?

All of these fringe benefits are now actually offered by U. S. companies. The extent to which fringe benefits have spread and are still spreading across the U.S. pay landscape will be dramatized once again this summer when Walter Reuther submits his historic package of cash wage-fringe benefit demands for the United Auto Workers: high on the UAW list for this year's contract negotiations will be group auto insurance for employees, paid partially or fully by the auto companies.

If your company does not provide these fringe benefits, you are still in the majority. Nevertheless, the trend today is unmistakably toward bigger, better and broader fringe benefits in virtually all living cost areas, for workers at all pay levels.

Last year, the nation's employers handed out "hidden pay checks" amounting to $72 billion, primarily in the form of paid holidays and vacations, health and life insurance, year-end bonuses, sick leave, profit sharing, free work clothes, free parking and discounts on company products. The cost of coffee breaks alone was $5 billion, and the average amount of coffee break time was the equivalent of an extra two weeks "off" for the whole year.

Last year, the cost to employers of fringe benefits rose 19 per cent--dwarfing the raised rise in costs of wages and salaries. This year, for every $1 you receive in wages, your employer is adding an average 25 cents worth of fringe benefits.

Corporate pension plans now cover most American workers and in most pension plans, workers of long standing may take their accumulated pension rights with them if they change jobs.

Group life insurance also is now provided by the vast majority of employers--and in many cases the plans also provide survivors with a lifetime income.

Today, more than 60 million American workers and their dependents are covered by company-provided major medical insurance and an estimated 15 million workers also are covered by group dental insurance. What new fringe benefits are on the way?

As one indication of what lies ahead for millions of workers, 1966's pace-setting benefit bundle for General Electric employees included comprehensive maternity benefits; dental surgery coverage for employees and dependents; medical benefits for certain dependent children; a boost in maximum medical benefit payments over a lifetime from $25,000 to $100,000, and, beginning in 1969, a ninth paid holiday.

Other indications of your own future fringe benefits are the growing number of union-negotiated contracts calling for early retirement at full pensions, mental health insurance (both in and out of the hospital), corporate tuition-reimbursement plans, and higher health insurance benefits, including increasingly long-term disability insurance, increasingly lengthy vacations, periodic sabbatical vacations, "split" vacations and "portable" vested pensions, even for relatively new employees.

The central fact is that in calculating your total compensation today, you must also count in your surging total of fringes. And, in deciding which new job offer to accept, you must weigh not only the yearly surface salary offered in each, but also the value of the hidden paychecks you could expect at each.

BELL'S FINEST GRID MACHINE

Although it was no secret, Fred Bell revealed last night that he considered the 1955 Warren High School football team, pictured above, the finest in his nine seasons of coaching here. The ex-Dragon mentor, who resigned the post earlier this week to accept a position with a New Jersey high school, last night listed his greatest moments in his 15 years here and received accolades from some of the men who have been associated with him. (See story at right)

Fred Bell - His Memories And A Tribute to The Man

By LARRY G. STEELE
Sports Editor

Memories and tributes followed in the wake of Fred Bell's announced resignation as head football coach at Warren Area High School earlier this week, memories by Bell himself of his finest moments in coaching here and tributes from the men who have been closely associated with him since 1952.

The decision to pull up stakes was a difficult one to make for a man who has devoted 15 years of his life to coaching and teaching in Warren and has made lasting friendships here.

How does he feel leaving Warren? "We have mixed emotions," said Bell last night. "We have a great many friends here. This was just an opportunity we couldn't pass up," he added in reference to his new position as Director of Secondary Physical Education and assistant football coach at East Patterson, N.J. High School.

There's no doubt about it, Bell leaves his mark on the community, especially in the field of athletics and football in particular. No one can dispute that Bell-coached teams played winning football, his 53-29-2 record over nine seasons proves that.

There were 53 happy occasions, but the one that Bell remembers most is the 26-2 defeat of Jamestown to cap a perfect 10-0 season in 1955. That was, he recalls, "a very happy moment for all of us."

He also singled out the comeback victory over Titusville here two seasons ago, when a Dave Sorenson-to-Mike Spinnery-to-Lee Sondericker pass on the last play of the game gave the Dragons the victory, as one of the highlights. Bell termed that one, "probably the most thrilling."

His greatest honor, he says, came in the very beginning. "It was most gratifying to succeed J. B. Leidig as head football coach here. I was greatly honored to be picked for the position," the Dragon mentor revealed.

There was no question in his mind about his greatest team. The '55 squad literally rolled over 10 opponents, including highly-rated and previously undefeated Ridgway and Mill Creek (now McDowell) eleven.

The team that won Section II and was awarded a trophy as the best in District X, among other honors, was built around "the best personnel I've ever had in Warren," Bell called his '55 players. "A tremendous group of boys to coach. They gave everything we asked and it paid off."

He noted that his teams ran over a record of 17 straight victories over the 1954-55 seasons, another experience he'll long remember.

It was difficult to single out the greatest individual players under his tutelage in nine seasons, but he rated Don Mooney first team All-State halfback and member of the 1955 All-America high school squad, as the "best all-around back" he had coached.

Jack Shattuck, another member of the '55 "Dream Team" was another fine back, says Bell and Chuck Kurz, from his latter years at the helm, also rates with the top backfield men. Although he coached him only one season, Bell included Toby Shea, now Youngsville head coach, as another near the top of the list.

Outstanding linemen were also legion during Bell's regime and he called Ben Kibbe, guard on the '55 club, "one of the finest. He was a strong defensive man, quiet, but very strong."

More recent standouts in Bell's memory include Tom Creola and Dick Thompson, both on the 1965 team.

What was the best team a Bell-coached eleven ever faced? The Jamestown club of two seasons ago that inflicted a 33-0 loss on the Blue and White, one of only two games the Dragons dropped. The Red Raiders of that year, Bell points out, "had depth, speed, size and experience."

Certainly one of the best individual performances by an opponent, Bell states, was turned in by Jim Shaughnessy of Oil City the night he ripped the Dragons for five touchdowns.

The toughest opponent year-after-year? Bell remembers that "we had the poorest luck against Titusville over the years, but year-in and year-out Jamestown was probably the toughest team to beat."

A strong advocate of single-wing football, Bell came under some criticism from T-information fans, but only when he was losing, which happened only 29 times in 84 games.

Why did he stick with it? "The biggest reason," he states, "was that we were the only team using it." It took longer, he pointed out, for an opponent to prepare a defensive for the single-wing after looking at the T all season.

He added, however, that "it isn't the information, it's the boys that run it." Several opponents last year used, he said, single-wing plays with the quarterback behind the center, handing off the ball instead of the direct snap. In his opinion, "the T is a little easier to coach."

Next season's Dragon team? Bell realizes he's leaving a potentially fine team behind and, although he acknowledges that they may have a little trouble adjusting to a new system, thinks they "should do real well."

(Editor's note: The Fred Bell stamp is on boys like Dan O'Neil, Steve Tundell and Darrell Pusateri and the new coach, whom he will be, will inherit some excellent football players.)

Of the Warren Sports Boosters, an organization in which he played an important part during the years of its reorganization, Bell stated he credited the club with "accomplishing many things for Warren athletics." He mentioned the recently constructed fieldhouse and stands at War Memorial Field, but added that there were "many other contributions."

He characterized the boys he coached as a "fine group of boys, it would be hard to find a nicer group." They have been, he said, "gentlemen."

What about his new position? "I don't," he stated, "anticipate any problems." East Patterson head coach Ken Carl uses the wing-T and sometimes the I-formation and Bell will be his defensive coach and also handle the line.

He noted that "this is the first time as an assistant football coach for me, but I'm looking forward to the work and the challenge of working under someone else."

Emotions are mixed among Bell's associates and friends here at his leaving, all are sorry to be losing a good friend and outstanding coach, but have nothing but good wishes for his future success.

In talking last night with a number of men whom Fred Bell has worked with during the last 15 years, it was obvious that he has acquired much respect and admiration. A sample is listed below.

Joseph Passaro, WAHS Principal and former grid assistant - "We've been together nearly 16 years, I worked under him for a few seasons and I can tell you we're going to miss him. He'll do a good job in his new position. He's a good organizer and he'll do well in the recreation field."

Joseph Massa, WAHS Athletic Director, former head basketball and assistant football coach - "Generally speaking, one of the main objectives in coaching is to mold young boys into Christian men. I have always felt that Fred accomplished this by stressing victory within the rules."

Joe Giordano, former Dragon assistant, new head coach at Sheffield - "I had four good years under him and it was through him that I gained the experience to go out on my own. He is dedicated to the game of football, he looked forward to it and I enjoyed our association."

Murray McComas, president, Warren Sports Boosters - "He has been a driving force in all areas of athletics in Warren. He is interested in all sports and a certain contribution strongly to the re-establishment of the Booster Club in Warren."

If further tribute is needed, let it suffice to say that Fred Bell has enjoyed the respect of the majority of coaches from area schools who have opposed him on the field of battle. No man could ask more than what he has earned in over 15 years here.

Fred Bell will take his friendships and memories to his new position, but he leaves much more than he is able to carry with him.

HOT STOVE LEAGUE

Lions Win First

The Lions Club won their first game of the year in the Intermediate League of the Borough Hot Stove with a 12-11 win over the Kiwanis. George Jerman went four-for-four while Jim Tome drove in the winning run for the Lions. Alvin Williamson drove in a pair to back the winning pitching of Bob Urban. Kiwanis had the better of it as far as extra base hits are concerned. Jim Mock and Bill Dates each had a double while Terry Bailor rapped a pair of two baggers. Jeff Frailery was tagged with the loss for the Kiwanis.

Post East Victory

Gaughn's Drug Store didn't quit scoring until the final inning as they rolled to an 8-3 win over Carson Finance in a Borough Bantam game last night at Jackson Field. Winning pitcher was Steve Brindis. He helped his own cause with a home run. Others on the winning team that homered were Randy English and Marty Loomis. Collecting a triple was Billy Cummings. John Sabat had a double for the winners. Tom Gay had a double for Carson Finance's only extra base hit.

California Fans 16

Ron California fanned 16 batters last night to pace Nelson Elberg to a 3-2 win over Penn Furnace in a Borough Cadet League game played at North Warren. Rick Freeburg belted a two base hit for the winners and garnered two RBIs. Kim Johnson was tagged with the loss for Penn Furnace. It was the first game of the year for both teams.

El-Tronics in Rout

Jay Bathurst recorded his first win of the season last night for El-Tronics in a Borough Cadet League game played at Starbrick. El-Tronics downed Saegertown Components 15-2. Bathurst fanned 12 and cracked a triple for the winners. Dave Crosley and Daryl Pierce also tripled for El-Tronics. Joe Bertetto and Randy Scallise had doubles for the winners. Dan Schwank had the only extra base blow for Saegertown with a triple. The losing hurler was Tom Tellman.

Bankers Blast Vets

Pennsylvania Bank and Trust blasted the VFW Tuesday night in a Borough Midget League game by a 14-2 score. All the extra base hits belong to PB & T. John Weber had a double while Bob Burger and Randy Sabat laced triples. Carl California had four hits for the winners. Mark Snarburg and Paul Burger worked on the mound for the Bankers. Kevin Fisher and Rust Van Epps hurled for the Vets. Dan Wiedert and Jeff Stevenson had two hits apiece for the losers.

Extra Inning Verdict

John Wolfe belted a home run in the seventh inning for Speddel-Lesser to lead them to a 3-2 win over Middtown Motors in a Borough Bantam League game. Larry Salapek was the winning pitcher. The losing hurler was Joe Sabat. He led the Middtown team at the plate with two hits.

Scores Second Win

A & B Heating posted its second win of the season last night with a 4-3 win over Autobody in a Borough Bantam game played at Mulberry Field. Dave Papalia had a double and a triple for the winners. Winning pitcher Don Olson also had a double. The winners had four runs on five hits while the losers collected three runs on two singles, both by Mark Huber. Jeff McClement was tagged with the loss. A & B Heating now has a 2-0 mark in the league. Autobody is 1-1.

Another Big Night

Red Barn had its second big scoring night of the young season last night as they scored a 30-1 win over Barnhart-Davis in a Borough Bantam League game played at Lacy Field. In their opening game on Monday night the Hamburgers posted a 29-0 win over Ideal Bakery. Dan Reese and Kerry Colvin split the pitching chores for the winners. They had 10 strikeouts between them. Scott Samson was tagged five home runs by the Red Barn. Collecting two was Dudley Nollinger giving him four for the season. Chris Dutchesl snapped a grand slam. The other two were added by Tom Spear and Colvin. Spear also had a triple. Getting doubles for the winners were Tom Dunn and Nollinger, a pair. Samson's double was one of three hits by the losers.

Tosses One Hitter

Steve Faulkner fired a one-hitter for Pitt Des Moines as they trounced Warren Car 16-3 at Westside Field last night in a Borough Cadet League game. The only hit for the losers was by pitcher Terry English. Mark Krumm drove in seven runs for the winners with a pair of home runs and a triple. Deny Nosel and John Bonavita laced doubles for the PDM team. Faulkner recorded 12 strikeouts and eight walks in picking up the win.

Fowler Hurls Shutout

Brian Fowler tossed a one-hit shutout for Rex Chain Belt in a 14-0 win over Wiles-Lantz IGA in a game played at Crescent Park last night. Bobby Rickerson cracked a pair of home runs for the winners. George Mock laced a triple and Steve Mahan had a double for Rex Chain Belt. The only hit for the losers was garnered by Gregg Reading. The losing hurler for Wiles-Lantz was Mike Bessey.

Taylor's in Runaway

Taylor's Pharmacy routed Russo Plumbing and Heating 39-1 in a Borough Bantam game last night. Winning pitcher Mark Tassone hit for the cycle with an extra double tossed in. His home run was a three run blast. Tad Beghardt had a grand slam homer, two triples and three singles. Bill Blair added a double to round out the extra base hits for the winners. The big rally for the winners came in the third inning when they scored 18 runs. Smith had a double for the losers who had only two hits. Losing pitcher for Russo's was McClausin.

Sons Rally to Edge Betts in City, 5-4

A two-run rally in the top of the sixth inning sparked the Sons of Italy to a 5-4 win over Betts Machine in a City Softball League game played last night at Carbon Memorial Field.

This was the opening game for both teams.

John Tassone led off the sixth for the SOI with a basehit. He scored when Don Corey ripped a triple. Corey scored when Mike Farr reached first on an error.

Sons of Italy started the inning trailing by a run, 4-3. Ralph Lee held the Machinists scoreless over the last two innings, but had men on base in both frames.

Betts jumped on Lee for a pair in the first inning when Ray Kane reached on an error. He scored on a double by Dan Suppa. The second run scored on a wild pitch.

The Sons got a run back in the third when Joe Tassone reached on an error. He scored on a single by Bobby Lucia.

Sons of Italy pulled ahead, temporarily, in the fourth with two runs. John Tassone got aboard on an error and scored on Corey's single. Corey eventually scored when a ball hit by Tom Haines was muffed at second base.

Dragons Meet 'Dogs Today, Olean Tilt Off

The scheduled baseball game last night between the Warren Dragons and Olean at the New York State school was cancelled because the field wasn't available.

Dragon coach Bob Kucher said that the game would not be made up because it is late in the season.

Warren will be in action today at Meadville. Corky Greenwood will take the mound for the Blue and White.

The Dragons close out their season on Saturday by hosting Girard in a double header. These games are presently in doubt because Girard still has a chance to tie for the lead in the Erie County League. If they do gain a tie, the playoff will be Saturday, cancelling the game with the Dragons.

UCLA Cage Star Charged With Possession of Dope

LOS ANGELES (AP)—UCLA sophomore basketball star Lucius Allen said yesterday he has never used marijuana.

The 19-year-old is free on $1,100 bail after being arrested and booked Tuesday on suspicion of possessing the narcotic. His arraignment is scheduled for Friday.

Officers said they found four hand-rolled cigarettes and about four grams of marijuana in a car registered to Allen.

Later, a felony complaint was issued against the basketball player by the Los Angeles County District Attorney's office.

Jackson Valley Holds Stag Day

Stag Day at Jackson Valley golf course was attended by 125 men yesterday. In the kuckers tournament there were 64 entries. Golf was played under the Peoria system.

Low gross scores for the day were Jim Potter 37, Dr. Duell 39, Skip Morine 40, Tony Bevevino 40 and Ted Mamakas 41.

Low net scores were Rod Kercher 40, Chip Steppenback 44, Jim Hall 50, Steve Tritt 52, George Irvin 52, Glenn Valentine 52, Harley Shaw 54, John Hannah 54, Bud Ceekings 56, John Forester 66, Jerry Waxman 56 and Les Larson 58.

Prizes may be picked up at the pro shop.

Boat Club Here Seeks Speed Change at Dam

Reorganization of the Warren-Kinzua Boating Club moved ahead Tuesday evening as members met in the courthouse to learn that their membership now totaled 40 and initial steps had been taken in the boaters drive to have the 8 mph speed limit on the Kinzua arm of the Kinzua Dam replaced by a no-limit "traffic" corridor.

Bruce Marsh read a letter stating the club's position in the speed limit matter, then advised the members that a duplicate letter was already on its way to Harrisburg.

In addition, Gail Hansen was appointed as the club's delegate to the Warren County Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs. And Bob Jackson was elected treasurer when it was decided to make this a separate office.

Ohio St. Shortstop Hit for Infraction

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State's star shortstop, Robert "Bo" Rein, was on the sidelines yesterday after being ruled ineligible for selling football tickets.

"I consider the case closed and I'm not about to conduct any witchhunt," said Athletic Director Richard C. Larkins. He ruled Rein ineligible Tuesday night.

A senior from Niles, Ohio, and a star halfback in football, Rein was Ohio's leading hitter with a .358 batting average.

Ohio State, the defending NCAA baseball king, has won three straight Big Ten championships and opens District 4 NCAA Regional playoff action today at Carbondale, Ill.

At the team's appreciation banquet Monday night, Rein was named co-captain. In a brief speech, he thanked OSU ticket director George Staten, assistant director Bob Reis and other university officials for helping him get extra tickets during the football season.

The Big Ten, after polling its athletic directors, advised Larkins Tuesday that OSU could represent the conference in the baseball tournament if Rein did not play.

"My feeling is that this is an isolated case and does not involve any coaches or anyone else. It's a case of a boy trying to make some money on extra tickets," Larkins said.

The conference prohibits a student-athlete who is on a grant-in-aid from selling tickets unless the athlete reports the amount received so it can be subtracted from the grant.

Seattle Plans Bid For Winter Games

SEATTLE, Wash., (AP)—Seattle will submit its formal bid for the 1976 Winter Olympics to the Site Selection Committee May 31, James Cain, chairman of the city's Winter Olympics Committee said yesterday.

He said Seattle's competition is expected to come from Denver, Colo., and Salt Lake City, Utah.

Warren Gal Keglers In Rochester Match

A large contingent of Warren Women Bowlers invaded Rochester over the weekend to participate in the 50th Annual Women's International Bowling Congress tournament.

The final standings will not be known for a few weeks when the tournament is completed. Some of the girls rolled very creditable scores.

Results of the local womens games are as follows:

In the Team event in Division I, individual average 150 or above, the Gold Tones rolled 2254. In doubles Marge Boller and Sandy Carlson tallied 940; Georgia Bonavita and Vivian Sterling 934 and Gert Duell and Shirley Fitch tossed a 916 line.

Fran Zolko led the Singles with a 546. She was followed by Shirley Fitch with a 534, Vivian Sterling 516, Georgia Bonavita 502 and Sandy Carlson 498.

In the All-Events Shirley Fitch owns a 1502 to pace the local girls. Sandy Carlson and Vivian Sterling follow with scores of 1498 and 1476.

In Division II, individual averages under 150, the Team leaders were Dan's Chevrolet 2186, BeGays 2170, Paul Mar 2169, Mineral Well 2155, Mary Alice Shoppe 2145, Walt's Shoe Store 2129.

Doubles leaders were Joyce Heeter and Daisy Bailey with 1007, Konk Tridico and Betty Ann Lucia with 949, Neva Luder and Jeannette Rulander 933, Beverly McMillan and Joyce Anderson 919, Jaye Pappalardo and Rose Juliano 915 and Jeannette Harvey and Rose Leuthold with 915.

Gert Duell paced the local keggers in Singles with a 510 score. Following her were Mary Ann Morgan 494, Peany Cunningham 493, Connie Whipple 485, Rose Juliano 479, Sue Orbanic 470 and Margaret Anderson 470.

All Events leader was Daisy Bailey with a 1498, Jaye Pappalardo 1425, Konk Tridico 1418, Virginia Swanson 1398, Fran Zolko 1393 and Gert Duell 1388 followed.

The biggest thrill of the tournament for the local girls came when Peany Cunningham rolled her first 200 game in sanctioned tournament play. She was awarded her WIBC patch for attaining that goal at Rochester.

Brewer nosed out pro basketball star Wilt Chamberlain and Italy's Nino Benvenuti, the new middleweight boxing champion. The golfer received 31 first place votes and 158 points from a panel of 118 sports writers and sportscasters.

Bizarre Putts, Slow Play Rules Changes Considered

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The rulers of golf moved yesterday to outlaw bizarre putting methods, including the popular croquet style, and to speed up the game.

The U.S. Golf Association and the Royal and Ancient Golf Club of St. Andrews announced jointly that negotiating committees of the two governing bodies had agreed on a uniform code which would make playing standards the same throughout the world.

A prohibition would be slapped on unconventional styles of putting and putting sticks. The R&A would conform with the USGA rules covering the unattended flagstick and the penalty for unplayable lies (one stroke instead of two). Both would adopt as law the USGA's present both optional and local rules limiting to once the cleaning of a ball on the green—a speedup measure.

If approved by the executive bodies, the new rules would go into effect next Jan. 1 and no further changes could be made for at least four years.

CLUB OWNERSHIP UP FOR GRABS

Cincy Gets 10th AFL Franchise

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Cincinnati was named yesterday as the 10th member of the American Football League to begin play in 1968. The action was believed to be the last expansion of the two major pro football leagues at least until their merger is completed in 1970.

Pete Rozelle, commissioner of the two leagues, said five groups were interested in the ownership of the new franchise and a decision could be expected within a month.

Paul Brown, former head coach of the Cleveland Browns, heads one faction. John Wiethe, former Detroit Lions guard and former University of Cincinnati basketball coach, and Len Trollo, Columbus businessman, head two of the other groups.

Rozelle revealed that two new groups had been added to the bidders but refused to identify them.

It was expected that the new franchise would cost about $8.5 million, the money to go to the NFL under terms of the merger agreement. The players to stock the new team, will come from the current AFL teams with Miami, the most recent addition, excepted.

Milt Woodward, president of the AFL, said the stocking would follow the same formula used to man the Miami franchise. The teams will freeze 23 of 40 players until Cincinnati picks two from each of the eight older clubs. After another man is frozen, two more would be taken for a total of 32.

Rozelle said the Cincinnati franchise would get the same preferential treatment in the common player draft of college players as New Orleans received this year.

The new team will get the first and last draft in each round, plus an extra choice in the second, third and fourth rounds.

However, the special No. 1 draft choice that the New York Giants traded to Minnesota in the Fran Tarkenton deal, will precede all other selections. The Vikings still will have first pick of any eligible collegian next year.

Cincinnati probably will go into the Western Division of the league along with Kansas City, Oakland, San Diego and Denver. The Eastern Division consists of New York, Boston, Buffalo, Miami and Houston. A final decision on this alignment may be made at the meetings currently being held.

If Brown's group should get the franchise, the former coach would have to make arrangements to terminate his present agreement with the Cleveland Browns which has two years to go.

It is understood Brown gets between $75,000 and $80,000 a year and a type of stock option from the Browns as part of the deal with owner Art Modell when he left the club.

Gov. James Rhodes of Ohio praised Modell for his cooperation in adding Cincinnati to the pro football roster, giving the state two teams. The governor, also complimented Cincinnati vice mayor Eugene Ruehlmann and councilman Myron Bush of Cincinnati for their efforts. All three were present at the announcement.

The Cincinnati team will have to play its 1968 games in either the University of Cincinnati's Nippert Stadium or Crosley Field, home of the Cincinnati Reds baseball team. Each has a capacity of about 32,000 for football.

Gov. Rhodes said he was confident that the new 55,000-seat stadium, estimated to cost $36.8 million, would be completed by 1969. The Reds already have agreed to a 40-year lease on the new stadium which will not have a dome.

Some of the same people who bought the Reds from Bill DeWitt and his associates last winter are included in the Brown group.

Rozelle said recent National Football League policy, presumably now to be applied in the AFL, calls for one individual to own 51 per cent of a club. Most, but not all of the NFL teams do have such centralized ownership.

Rozelle said the addition of Cincinnati probably would end expansion at least until 1970. However, he said there was great interest in other cities such as Birmingham, Ala., Seattle, Wash., Portland, Ore., and Phoenix, Ariz.

The commissioner said the Super Bowl site might be considered Thursday. He said the proposed college all-star game in Germany, June 25 would be discussed this week, also the Chicago All-Star game for which the current contract expires with the 1967 game, Aug. 4.

Rose, Hulman Join Auto Hall of Fame

By DALE BURGESS
Associated Press Sports Writer
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — The two men who will pace the hazardous flying start of the 51st 500-mile auto race May 30 were inducted into the Auto Racing Hall of Fame yesterday.

Mauri Rose, who took the winner's checkered flag three times in the Memorial Day classic, and Anton "Tony" Hulman, Indianapolis Motor Speedway owner, became the 34th and 35th members of the hall. Choices were by an annual vote of a 100-member committee of persons associated with auto racing.

Rose, now a Chevrolet engineer, took over a lagging car started by Floyd Davis in 1941 and passed everybody in front to win. He won with a front-drive Blue Crown in 1947 and 1948.

Hulman, Terre Haute, Ind., business executive and sportsman, bought the Speedway in 1945 when it was falling apart from World War II neglect.

While raising vast new stands and other facilities, he linked the purse from pre-war totals under $100,000 to last year's record $691,000.

Rose will be at the wheel of the Camaro pace car. Hulman will be with him, calling the signals through radio communication with Chief Steward Harlan Fenger.

The main change in the start of the race this year will be the use of a professional driver, Rose, in the pace car instead of some automotive company executive.

ONE DESTROYER, ONE TENDER

U.S. Has Tiny Force in Area of Crisis

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has only a tiny "show the flag" naval force in the Red Sea in position to challenge Egypt's announced blockade of the Gulf of Aqaba. This force currently is made up of a single destroyer, the 2,200-ton Fiske, and converted seaplane tender, the Valcour, which serves as a flagship. A second destroyer, the Joseph P. Kennedy Jr., was last reported around Malagasy Republic and may be moving up to the Red Sea. The only way the warships of the big U.S. 6th Fleet can reach the crisis area from the Mediterranean—short of circling all of Africa—would be to pass through the Suez Canal, Egypt might dispute such passage with shore guns. However, the mouth of the Gulf of Aqaba is only about 500 miles from where the aircraft carrier Saratoga was last reported steaming off the island of Crete in the Mediterranean. In an emergency, planes from the Saratoga could reach the scene in less than an hour. The mouth of the gulf is well within the combat radius of the F4, A4 and A3 jets aboard the carrier. Military sources said the 6th Fleet has not yet received any special alert orders, although at least part of the fleet of 50 ships is always maintained in a state of readiness. The carrier America was reported in the western Mediterranean, off Spain.

Golf Course Proposed For Jamestown Park

JAMESTOWN — The Jamestown Parks and Recreation Commission voted last night to proceed with plans to relocate a municipal golf course in the area of the proposed Chadakoin Park.

The commission took the action after receiving an offer for land located outside the city in hearing a report of two other tentative offers.

Jamestown attorney Terry C. Duro, appearing on behalf of Albert A. Nelson of RD 2, Jamestown made an offer of a 154-acre tract of land in the town of Kiantone, just south of this city. He told the commission that the tract has a frontage of 2,000 feet on the Falconer - Stillwater rd., and about 700 feet on the Manchester rd., that could be easily utilized as a possible park site. No price was suggested, Duro said, because the city might wish to take options on the three homes that are located on the premises.

The commission took no action on the offer but later in the meeting, City Recreation Director Russell Diethrick announced that the city has received an offer from Raymond L. Miller who owns approximately 100 acres located across the Falconer-Stillwater rd. from the Nelson property. Diethrick said Miller offered the 100-acre tract to the city for $40,000.

Council Louis Peterson indicated that he is opposed to spending additional funds on any park until such time as the Chadakoin Park is completed.

The Democratic councilman said he would prefer all the monies available to the city for land acquisition and park development be allocated to the completion of the proposed Chadakoin Park. Among other things the proposed new park is scheduled to have a municipal golf course but until after a sanitary land fill has been operated successfully in the area to reclaim the land.

NEVER WEAR NET HOSE

Top Strippers Crazy About High Fashion

BY JUDY KLEMESRUD

(c) N.Y. Times News Service
NEW YORK — Lili St. Cyr and Blaze Starr are two names that will probably never appear on the best dressed list. But it won't because the two strippers aren't choosy about the clothes they put on.

"I'm mad about fashion—in fact I wanted to be a designer," Miss St. Cyr said the other day while covered from neck to knee in a $2,500 mink coat.

"Balenciaga and Courreges are my heroes," she added, "but Norman Norrell is my favorite. He must have tailors who really know they're doing. I get five or six years' wear from his things."

The blue-eyed blonde had less kind words for some of today's pop fashion trends.

"I wouldn't be caught dead wearing net hose, sequined dresses or false eyelashes," she said. "Women who wear them in public remind me of strippers."

Miss Starr, on the other hand, makes most of her own clothes, including many of the costumes in her $20,000 stage wardrobe that includes three mink coats.

She recently spent four months sewing and gluing hundreds of beads on a black lame gown that she made for $150. She believes it would have cost $500 in a store.

But the attire is strictly poor-boy sweaters and stretch blue jeans when she's in Baltimore in her new $100,000 ranch-style home.

It is called "Belle's Little Acre." Her real name is Bella Fleming. She designed it herself, right down to the purple sunken bathtub and the modern oriental furniture.

"I love miniskirts, too, but I can't wear them because I'm as wide as I am high," she said dejectedly. She is 5 feet 6 inches tall and measures (according to posters outside the theater) 48-25-36.

Both women said they earned $100,000 in "good years," a big chunk of which goes for clothes, wigs and cosmetics. But neither spends a cent on keeping her figure trim.

Miss St. Cyr was born Marie Van Schaak in Pasadena, Calif. and was a waitress in a Chinese restaurant there before becoming a stripper in 1942.

Now 49 years old—the same age, she said, as her Singer sewing machine—she lives in an English country house in Hollywood with her seventh husband.

"California is really nowhere as far as fashion is concerned," she said.

So whenever she has a New York engagement — usually at the Latin Quarter — she stocks up on clothes.

Miss Starr, who is 30 ("say 29—it's good for business"), was born on a farm near Logan, W. Va. the eighth child in a family of 11. Her father was a railroad worker.

One thing Miss Starr never takes off is a 5-carat diamond ring she said was a gift of the late Gov. Earl Long of Louisiana. They were engaged to be married, she said, but the Governor died in September, 1960—two months before his divorce from his first wife was to become final.

Her favorite offstage outfit is a $150 beige wool suit that she trimmed with opossum fur. "Down home we throw those things away," she said with a medium-heavy drawl.

Chamber Directors Endorse Statement

Warren Area Chamber of Commerce's board of directors yesterday confirmed the chamber's executive committee statement, Monday, concerning the action of Warren County Commissioners Blain Mead and Lewis Crippen to withdraw from participation in the Bradford Regional Airport program.

The chamber's executive vice president, Colonel Henry Kerlin, was directed to contact all industry and the principal retail establishments to obtain a consensus about the Bradford Regional Airport.

Clifford Johnson, chairman highway transportation committee reported ground-breaking ceremonies for the Youngsville by-pass will take place at 10 a.m. tomorrow at the east end of Youngsville.

Robert Dilks, chairman steering committee of the Kinzua Dam Vacation Bureau, a division of the Warren County Development Association, reported actions taken by the bureau. He said annual tourist visits to the area had doubled during the period from 1960 to 1966. Dilks explained the bureau now has a half-time paid employees, Charles Tranter, with participation of members representing many business and community interests.

Dilks said permanent headquarters will be established, and it is planned to employ a full-time worker. The board members urged the Kinzua Dam Vacation Bureau to exert every effort toward getting new roads and improvement of old highways in this region.

NAME THREE REPS

Take First Step For Convention

HARRISBURG (AP) — The first steps were taken yesterday toward launching the constitutional convention here this winter.

A 13-member preparatory committee held an organizational meeting and elected Lt. Gov. Raymond J. Broderick as its chairman.

The committee, consisting of legislative leaders, reviewed the act setting up the convention which was approved by the voters in last week's primary election. Republicans control the committee by a 7-6 margin.

"A bipartisan effort put this wonderful victory in the hands of the people of Pennsylvania and this morning's meeting shows that we want to continue this bipartisan feeling," Broderick, a Republican, said.

The panel will hold its next meeting June 1. Coincidentally, that is the day Gov. Shafer will deliver his message to the General Assembly.

The lieutenant governor said it appears the three-month convention which convenes Dec. 1 will be conducted in the State House Chamber.

The preparatory committee will hold hearings to consider data presented by interested groups, Broderick said. The panel has subpoena power.

Broderick said it was decided the panel committee would select an executive director to handle the day-to-day activities of the committee. He indicated this person would be a non-legislator.

The committee discussed as possible candidates for the post John Ingram, secretary of administration under former Gov. William W. Scranton, and Thomas Blaban, former deputy insurance commissioner and House parliamentarian.

The committee did not make a final decision, nor did it fix a salary for the position.

Two parliamentarians for the convention were named. They are Mark Gruell, secretary of the Senate, and S. Edward Moore, House parliamentarian.

Neither Moore nor Gruell will receive salaries for the posts. The convention legislation permits legislative employees to be reimbursed only for their expenses.

The committee must also select five other persons — one to draft convention rules and four others to be in charge of each of the four parts of the state constitution that will undergo revision.

Governor Invokes Spanish Philosophy

ATLANTIC CITY (AP) — Gov. Raymond P. Shafer of Pennsylvania, quoting Spanish philosophy, laid the groundwork yesterday for a possible increase in state taxes.

In a speech to the Pennsylvania Bankers Association convention here, Shafer discussed the $300 million deficit in his proposed $1.8 billion budget.

The Republican governor, departing from his prepared text, quoted a Spanish philosopher: "Life is a series of collisions with the future."

Asked by newsmen afterwards if one possible "collision" may be a tax increase, Shafer replied with a smile:

"Oh well, we have to have $300 million . . . we hope it's a smooth collision with very little friction."

He emphasized, however, that "no final decision" has been made concerning a tax hike.

He told an estimated 2,400 bankers at the windup session of their convention that he was "greatly concerned" that the people did not fully understand what his administration was attempting to do with the money.

"Many of them say: 'Don't raise taxes.' Then they turn right around and say: 'Don't forget to increase aid to our schools or hospitals,'" Shafer said.

"This is our dilemma on the eve of my making a final decision on just what to do about filling the revenue gap we face in Pennsylvania," he continued.

Shafer said he has been advised by a number of people to cut the increased expenditures.

About $210 million of the $300 million deficit results from legislation passed by previous legislative sessions over which he had no control.

He told the bankers "as people who understand what an investment means," that the budget is an investment in the future of Pennsylvania.

"I am asking the people to make a $1.8 billion investment in their present and their future and their children's future," he said. "It is not an investment I have asked them to make lightly."

"If we don't invest now . . . our return is going to be very low when it comes time to collect."

Class of '37 Reunion

The class of 1937, of the Jamestown High School, will celebrate its 30th anniversary at a dinner-dance June 17, 1967 at the Hotel Jamestown's Crystal Ballroom.

Invitations are in the mail to those whose addresses are known by the committee. Those who know addresses of 1937 graduates residing out of town are asked to notify John Peterson at the Bank of Jamestown.

Youngsville Slates Summer School Plans

Registration is now under way at Youngsville High School for summer school enrollment.

The program is basically for remedial purposes and is intended for students who are failing or having difficulty in a particular subject matter area.

Summer school will be initiated June 19 and closes July 28. Two sessions lasting two and a half hours each will begin at 8 a.m. and end at 1 p.m. Students may sign up for both sessions.

Transportation must be furnished by parents and an enrollment fee of $5, to be returned upon meeting attendance requirements, will be charged.

Subjects to be offered are English, 7 through 12; typing, driver's ed, Algebra I and II, social studies, 7 through 12 and biology.

Ruby's Yarn Shop Open In Florida

It has been almost four years since Ruby Babcock left her Yarn Shop in Warren (after 14 years in the business) and moved to Vero Beach, Fla. for health reasons.

Ruby now owns and operates a Yarn and Art Shop in Vero Beach.

The gay and very interesting lady, who enjoys people and traveling, although confined to a wheelchair, has always been well adjusted to her handicap and considers herself a very independent person.

Ruby continues to be able to do all her own work, in the store and in her apartment, both located in Colonial Manor.

The former Warren woman finds Vero Beach a friendly, beautiful little city and its people extremely courteous. Her days are never long or dull since there are always people coming into her shop to make purchases from her supply of yarn goods, crewel embroidery kits, stamped goods and knitting or crocheting accessories.

As a small child, Ruby learned to knit and it is an art she has always loved. She takes orders from customers who want her to knit sweaters, dresses or afghans. At one time she taught courses in knitting but now will assist only beginners who have difficulties. During World War II she made sweaters for servicemen in the army and navy.

Ruby's hobbies are watching television, sewing, going shopping, attending concerts during the winter season and playing cards with her many friends. She will close her shop temporarily and leave Vero Beach for a month this summer. Her destination is Pennsylvania where she will visit relatives.

To meet state department regulations, 100 per cent attendance is required of all students. Absence will be excused only for death in the immediate family or illness (doctor's certificate required). Those missing three days will be asked to withdraw from the course without credit.

Punctuality is essential and three tardy marks will be considered sufficient cause for dismissal. Students must make up all time missed.

Corry Airport Receives Funds For Projects

CORRY—A contract to award the Airport Authority a total of $15,000 was signed Tuesday morning in the Erie County commissioner's office.

Commissioner William O. Hill Jr., said the contract will run for five years and allot $3,000 annually in aid for improvements at the Corry airport.

Improvements cover new access runways to new, still-to-be-built hangars, small administration building and vehicle parking around the new structure.

Tentative plans are to try and get the administration building up this year and the paving will be done in the late summer program.

Price of Milk Increased by 2 Cents a Quart

HARRISBURG—In a new milk marketing order, prices in the Erie marketing area, which includes Warren, will be increased, it was disclosed yesterday.

Home deliveries will cost 30 cents per quart (up 1½ cents), 56 cents per half-gallon (up 2 cents), and gallons $1.08 (up 4 cents).

Out-of-store prices will have the same increases, with the costs set at 29 cents, 53 cents, and $1.02.

Producer prices would be raised 23 cents to $6.03 a hundredweight.

The discount price for dispensers containing six or more quarts would be 27 cents a quart.

Driver Is Fined

Paul T. Allen, of Sugar Grove, forfeited $30 bail on two traffic charges when he failed to appear Monday before Town of Busti, N.Y. Peace Justice E. Robert Bootey. The charges, placed by Officer Ronald Waldron, were failing to keep right and driving at a speed not reasonable or prudent.

IT'S CALLED A CANOE TRIP

Seven young lads have registered for the YMCA sponsored Canadian Canoe Trip through Algonquin Park, Ontario Province, which is slated to begin on Saturday, June 10. Under adult supervision the boys will spend six days in the wilderness. Above, preparing an outdoor meal are (foreground) Greg Schumacher and Matt Voigt and (background) Mike Voigt and Ken Hale. Further details on the trip which costs about $70 can be obtained at the YMCA.

Youngsville Kiwanis Club Hosts Tidioute Key Club

Members of the Tidioute Key Club were guests Tuesday night at the Youngsville Kiwanis Club meeting.

Attending were Eugene Szil, faculty advisor, who introduced Key Club members Robert Bosko, Donn Parr, Vincent Pillar, Walter Conklin, Carl Pillar, Ken Nickelson, Ron Miles, Larry Anderson and Max Anderson, president. Another guest was W. W. Augenstein, advisor, Youngsville Explorer Post 38.

D. H. Lay was program chairman and introduced as guest speaker Youngsville's mayor, Ernest McGraw.

In keeping with Public Works Week, the mayor spoke on that subject and reviewed the planning and construction of the Youngsville swimming pool. He discussed in detail plans for future development of the area around the pool.

McGraw also discussed in detail the planned development of the new parking area, playground area and picnic facilities. He said when the entire recreation project is complete, the total cost will be about $190,000.

The mayor also talked of plans for a new sewage disposal plant to be constructed on the site of the present primary treatment plant. This is designed to affect 90 per cent purification of wastes and will satisfy the requirements of the clean streams plan. The Commonwealth now requires 85 per cent treatment.

Following the talk Kiwanians accompanied the mayor to the pool site where he showed facilities now completed, the sites

Fairview Father Saves Son from Fire Death

ERIE — A Fairview father saved his three-year-old son from death in a fire which gutted their two-story frame home late Tuesday.

The boy, Michael Wester, was admitted to St. Vincent Hospital for lacerations of the cheek and chest suffered when his father, Norman, 30, threw him through a closed window in the burning house to his mother, Agnes, 26. The boy's condition is listed as satisfactory.

The Westers were treated for cuts suffered from the shattering glass and released. Two other children, Debbie, 8 and David, 2, were treated for smoke inhalation and also released from the hospital.

The couple was awakened by a fire believed caused by a faulty furnace at 10:30 p.m. Tuesday. Four members of the family left the burning building and were outside when Wester realized Michael was still inside a first floor bedroom.

Damage to the building was estimated at $7,000 and to the contents $9,000.

Red Cross officials have been contacted and will seek shelter for the homeless family.

Meeting Tonight

The location of the Bear Lake Community Action meeting has been changed from the fire hall to the EUB Church in that borough. All residents are urged to attend the session at 8 p.m. today.

Bill Would Change System of Zoning

(TMO Harrisburg Bureau)

HARRISBURG, May 25 — Residents of boroughs in Warren County would find it easier to oppose projected zoning changes in their boroughs under terms of a bill now in the State Senate.

The bill, currently in the Senate Local Government Committee, would stipulate, for one thing, that in cases where a protest is to be lodged with borough authorities against a zoning ordinance change, the protests would have to be signed by only 20 per cent of the owners affected or in land adjacent thereto, instead of the 33 and one third per cent as presently required.

Under the protest procedure, a favorable vote of two-thirds of all members of borough council is required to clear the proposed zoning change, as opposed to only a majority approval needed in non-protest changes.

Another bill pertaining to Warren County's six boroughs, this one a House bill currently being studied by the House Committee on Boroughs, would authorize borough councils to make appropriations to non-profit associations or corporations organized for the purpose of acquiring and maintaining historical properties.

COUNTY TO HAVE 19

Special Ed Classes Approved

(TMO Harrisburg Bureau)

HARRISBURG, May 24 — The State Board of Education has approved 19 special education classes for handicapped pupils conducted in schools in Warren County in the 1967-68 school year as meeting requirements for state funds to apply to the cost of this program.

Of this number of classes seven were conducted by school districts in this county for their pupils. Six of these classes were provided by Warren Area School District, five for mentally retarded pupils in both elementary and high school grades and one class in speech and hearing. A class for mentally retarded was also conducted by Brokenstraw Valley School District in its schools.

In addition to the classes provided by these school districts the Warren County School Board operated 12 special classes in various schools in the county. Nine of these were for mentally retarded, two for maladjusted pupils and one in speech and hearing.

All special classes operated in schools in Warren County

Youngsville Bypass Work On Tomorrow

Ground-breaking ceremonies for the Route 6 Youngsville bypass are scheduled for 10 a.m. tomorrow east of the Youngsville borough line.

It is expected that Robert Rosser, assistant commissioner of the State Highway Department and State Senator Richard C. Frame will participate with representatives of the contractors for the $5,833,000 construction job.

The divided highway will run 5.89 miles.

Highway officials stated construction of the Warren Route 6 bypass should begin in the summer of 1968.

Infantry Division Plans Convention For August 2-5

The National Convention Committee of the famous 80th Infantry Division has completed plans for the Gold and Silver convention to be held August 2-5 in Pittsburgh.

Siegfried Anderson of Miller Hill rd. here was a member of this highly decorated unit which first carved their niche in history during World War I when General Patton's army through much of World War II.

This year marks the 50th year since activation of the division and the 25th year since reactivation, hence the Gold and Silver convention.

Former member of the 80th division in this area interested in attending the convention should write: 80th Division Convention, 200 Chamber of Commerce Bldg., Pittsburgh, 15219.

Venango Campus Student Charged With Larceny

An 18-year-old Venango campus student from New Jersey is in the Venango County jail awaiting court action filed by Oil City police. He is charged with the larceny of $307.71 in checks and $122.06 in cash from the student activity fund of Clarion State College.

The youth entered a plea of guilty to the charge and was recommended to jail in lieu of $1,000 bond, according to police. Oil City authorities said the student also pleaded guilty to shoplifting and paid a $50 fine.

A college security officer told police that funds were taken from a desk drawer in the campus administration building between Tuesday and Thursday last week.

According to police, $193.06 in checks, $50 cash and two radios, which had been reported stolen from the Western Auto store in Oil City, were recovered in the youth's room.

Ombudsman Bill Gains House Committee Okay

HARRISBURG — The House State Government Committee has given its approval to a Bill sponsored by State Senator Richard C. Frame (R) proposing creation of an independent agency to handle citizens' complaints.

The measure, released to the floor for action by the full House, would establish the office of ombudsman, a Swedish term for "people's representative."

The official would be appointed by the governor, subject to approval of two-thirds of the House and Senate. He would serve a term of 15 years at an annual salary of $38,000.

Syrup Volume Down

Maple syrup production in Pennsylvania, this year, was the smallest since 1960, according to State Secretary of Agriculture, Leland H. Bull. The small crop which amounted to 62,000 gallons, attributed to erratic weather conditions which were either too cold or too warm for good sap flow, according to the State Crop Reporting Service.

Due in Bradford

The Duke and Dutchess of Bedford will begin their autumn tour of the United States by opening the 5th annual Bradford Antiques Show and Seminar. The Duke and Dutchess will speak at the beginning day seminar on September 28. The show runs Sept. 28-30 and will include other widely-known experts in the field of antiques. The Duke is owner of Woburn Abbey, his family's principal country seat for over three centuries and will illustrate his lecture with slides of the abbey and its restoration.

First President

Herbert Johnson of Youngsville has been elected the first president of the Mended Hearts Society. The formal installation for all elected officers will be held June 22 at the Eagles Club in Erie. The society is made up of those who have had heart surgery themselves or belong to a family where surgery has been performed. Its main purpose is the encouragement of others facing surgery.

On Committee

County Commissioner Blain M. Mead has been named to serve on a new committee of the Pennsylvania State Association of County Commissioners. The committee will work relative to the limited constitutional convention with an eye toward legislation to protect county commissioners and those holding rural offices. Mead was in Harrisburg Tuesday where, as a member of the association's legislative committee, the mental health and retardation bill was reviewed as well as salary schedules for child welfare.

Trailer Licenses Due

Warner M. Depuy, Secretary of Revenue, announced today that the Bureau of Motor Vehicles, is currently processing Commercial vehicle and trailer renewal applications as received. All commercial vehicles and trailers must bear 1967 renewal stickers no later than 12:01 a.m. June 1, 1967. Depuy cautioned that there will be no extension of time.

Tourist Agency Grants

The Travel Development Bureau of the Pennsylvania Department of Commerce, has announced payments to 15 Tourist Promotion Agencies which totaled $49,567.26 for the third quarter of the fiscal year. These payments are made on a matching fund basis under the Tourist Promotion Law of 1961, with the Commonwealth matching the funds expended by the various agencies, up to the eligible limit of their allotment. The legislature appropriated $600,000, in matching funds for the fiscal year 1966-1967.

Jamestown Planner Opposes Change In Foote Zoning

At a meeting of the Jamestown planning commission, held Monday night, A. Russell Tryon, Jamestown planning consultant indicated, he was strongly opposed to a change in zoning which would permit commercial operations on Foote ave. north of Cole ave.

Tryon recommended that the area remain in its present R-4 classification which is essentially residential.

The Planning commission deferred for two weeks a decision on whether to follow the consultant's recommendations.

Town Crier

... By Les Rickey

I'm loathe to report that, with the complete dispersal of the Conewango Fleet, the members of that once-proud corps have gone astray not only from their habitat but in their habits as well.

Reports keep drifting back upriver from the places they have settled. They do not speak well of these deserters. There is a for instance in the case of the duck that wandered as far south as President, below Tionesta on the Allegheny. He fell in with a bad crowd of beer-drinking crows and eventually became stewed.

But there is one example of our vagabond fleet making the best of a bad situation.

It seems that one of the white Conewango crowd has established a sort of family life near the airport in a small cove. It has mated with a mallard and the family is doing quite well.

But this gives me cause to pause. What of the ducklings, when fall should arrive? Father Mallard will want, as in his nature, to spend the winter in Florida, while Mother will want to take her brood upriver to the warm barn she remembers from her old Navy days.

I suspect that Mr. Mallard, like many another soul who has gotten married and accepted the responsibilities that go with it, will have to change his ways and reject the call of the wild. Otherwise, the result is a broken home and another grim statistic of mixed marriage.

CHAPEL WEDDING BELLS rang out for Marjorie Ethel Eadie of Hawthorne, California, and Alan C. King of New York City, recently. Mrs. Jessie Eadie of 424 Pennsylvania ave. W., the mother of the bride, announces the couple were married in the Chapel Of The Flowers in Las Vegas, Nevada, and will reside in Los Angeles, California. The new Mrs. King is also the daughter of the late Mr. Hawley M. Eadie.

NOW HERE'S A CERTAINLY UNUSUAL SUPPER, but so good, they say, that it is an annual affair. "They" are the members of the G.M.B. Birthday Club. Hosts for A "Boiled Leeks Supper" this past Monday were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gage at their home in Cable Hollow. The menu always includes succulent ham, leeks, mashed potatoes, a relish tray, a Jello salad, different kinds of pies, and, of course, is topped off with fragrant cups of coffee. Mrs. Gage said this is a supper that is an old custom in some parts of the South, and is also popular in some parts of New York State.

AN OPEN HOUSE is being held for Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Horn this Sunday, May 28, from 2 to 4 p.m. in the Youngsville High School. Everyone is invited. Mr. Horn is the retiring music instructor for Brokenstraw School District. A position he has held from 1943 to the present time. Hosts for the affair are the members of the Youngsville, Pittsfield, and Irvine Elementary Parent Teachers Associations.

FILM FORUM 1967 is featuring Marian Anderson tomorrow at the noon time program from 11:15; 12:15; and 1:15 in the Hospitality Room of Northwest Savings and Loan Association Building. The film shows scenes of the great singer's life—her early childhood home and church in Philadelphia; her Town Hall recital; her Connecticut farm home. Alternating, are examples of her repertoire including "Deep River", "Comin' Thro the Rye", and Schubert's lovely "Ave Maria". This weekly film program is presented by the Warren Library Association, and coffee is served courtesy of the Northwest Savings and Loan Association. Those attending are invited to bring their lunches. Children, young adults and adults are all welcome. The film is 27 minutes long and in black and white.

TICKETS MAY STILL BE OBTAINED for the adult dancing party on Saturday night at St. Paul Center, Saybrook, and they will be sold at the door the night of the dance. The affair, for the public, sponsored by St. Clara's and St. Anthony's Parish Men's Society, will feature music by Al Cox and His Tunesters for round and square dancing—Refreshments will be available. Tickets are $3 per couple and may be obtained from members of the Men's Society, or, call John Andrews 968-3813, Sheffield, or Joseph Montore 723-9869, Clarendon.

MINIATURES: Although Mrs. Joseph DeFrees will be out of town tomorrow, the YWCA Bicycle Brigade will not miss out on the weekly tour. Mrs. Joyce O'Connor, assistant leader, with Mrs. Elmer Lundahl, will guide the group up Coneywango avenue, onto the Big Four road, and back on home. As usual the starting time from the YWCA is 1:15.

Saturday this week will see the beginning of outdoor preparations for St. Joseph's Summer Festival. Men of the Parish will be erecting the booths for the event on the spacious school grounds from early morning to late afternoon. Hope a bright sunny day affords them quick progress in their work.

Mrs. Shirley Betts has sent in word for the Warren County Association For Retarded Children that Camperships for Camp Complanter are available. The Association is meeting tonight at 8 in its office.

Hints From Heloise

Frosted Windows

Dear Home Lovers:

Many of us have a kitchen window, a bathroom window, etc., that doesn't have a good view.

For instance, kitchen windows sometime look out on trash cans or alleys. Or perhaps you have other windows that you like to have light come through but don't want people seeing in.

Why not frost them?

This will only cost you a few cents per window. Furthermore, it even saves washing windows each month because the rain marks and the dust on the outside don't show!

Buy some Epsom salts. Get the smallest jar you possibly can because it's going a long way when we dab our windows with it. This should cost you about 25 cents.

Pour about two heaping tablespoons in a saucer and add one tablespoon of beer to it. This will foam.

Let it set for at least 30 minutes. The salt crystals will partially dissolve.

You will end up with a liquid that looks like absolutely nothing but it will make you an artist. And what an artist you're going to be!

Dip a piece of facial tissue into this liquid and wipe each window pane as if you were washing it.

Then while it is still thoroughly wet, go back and dab, dab and pat the pane with the wet tissue. It's going to look real messy.

To get an artistic pattern, this is exactly what you want. The most beautiful crystals will form on your window when it dries.

Light still comes through from God's sunshine, but you can't see IN from the outside, and yet you can see OUT. Even the sun glare is reduced.

The one thing I must caution you about is:

Your window panes must be CLEAN. I recommend washing them with some ammonia water to remove all the carbon, then wiping dry with facial tissues. Don't use a bath towel, a dish rag or a sponge because these contain a minute amount of grease or body oil.

When you want to remove the crystals all you have to do is wash the window. Just plain water removes it.

Give it a try. You'll not only have fun doing it but you'll love the beautiful designs and enjoy the privacy too!

DEAR HELOISE:

Often I run out of drawing paper for my children.

Families Present At Reslink
Strowger Nuptial Service

Miss Barbara June Reslink and Richard John Strowger were united in marriage on Saturday, May 20, in a two o'clock afternoon nuptial service held in the Lakeside home of Mrs. Doris Belcher of Sherman's Bay in the presence of the immediate families. The Rev. Harold K. Babb of the Lakewood Methodist Church read the double ring rites.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman B. Reslink of Panama, N.Y., and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl B. Strowger of 80 Deerhurst Blvd., Kenmore, New York.

An altar was formed with pedestal arrangements of white chrysanthemums, snapdragons and gladioli, with pre-dieux at either side. A centerpiece of the same flowers completed the arrangements.

Escorted on the arm of her father, the bride descended the green garlanded open staircase in her approach to the altar. She was gown in imported ivory linen styled with a wide band of Venetian lace forming the empire waistline. The molded bodice had a squared neckline and Kabucki sleeves ending in wide bands of the lace. The street length skirt was gathered softly across the back. A bouffant shoulder length veil of ivory English illusion was caught to a linen pillbox encircled with the matching lace. She carried a colonial arrangement of white roses with stephanotis and ivy.

The maid of honor, Miss Zora Jeanette Reslink, was in a pink linen gown with a butterfly veil headdress secured by a linen Dior bow. Her flowers were a colonial bouquet of pink sweet heart roses and miniature carnations.

Dale A. Gilbert of Lakewood, was the best man.

The mother of the bride wore a petal pink silk linen sheath with jacket and a cymbidium orchid corsage.

For traveling to Quebec City and Montreal, the new Mrs. Strowger wore a black and white checked A-line ensemble with black accessories. After June 1, Mr. and Mrs. Strowger will reside at 9 North street, Bladell, N.Y.

The bride, prior to her marriage was a secretary at Art Metal. She is also a member of Beta Sigma Phi Xi Alpha Phieta chapter, and a graduate of Panama Central School. The groom, a 1960 graduate of Syracuse University, is a Certified Public Accountant, with Price Waterhouse.

Showers were given by Mrs. Robert K. Howe; Mrs. Doris Belcher and Mrs. Ruth Welcyng; Xi Alpha Theta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi International; and a luncheon was hosted by employees of Art Metal, Inc., at Terrace Inn.

Try applying blusher or a darker shade of foundation under your cheekbones and along the jawline. Choose a hair style which adds height at the top and stays close to the head at the sides.

HAYWIRE HAIR

My hair is very thick and wiry. It's always a mass of wild tangles and just won't stay smoothly in place. What should I do to tame it?

LORRAINE R.
Brush your hair at least fifty strokes a day, being sure to touch the brush to your scalp before drawing it through the hair. Use a shampoo containing lanolin or egg. (Wiry hair tends to be dry). Finish with a cream rinse for extra control.

Get the best haircut you can afford. A good stylist can remove most of the bulk that's causing a great deal of your problems. Short hair is most manageable.

Use setting lotion and fairly large rollers. Apply a touch of hairdressing cream after brushing out your set.

My nose is small and straight, actually my best feature. How can I draw attention to it?

Patricia C.
Sweep your hair into a French twist at the back, or gather it up into a cluster of curls. A high chignon also plays up a pretty nose.

DIET DILEMMA

I'm on a perpetual diet. My willpower lasts for a few days, then I go on an eating binge, then I starve myself. Is there a painless way to reduce?

Terry H.
Follow a high protein, low carbohydrate diet. Eat plenty of meat, eggs and fish. Choose leafy green vegetables. Learn to like cottage cheese, raw carrots, celery and green pepper sticks. Keep snacks like these in the refrigerator to nibble on when you're hungry. Don't starve yourself. The pounds come back quickly unless you make a definite change in your eating habits.

SCENT SNIFF

How can I tell which perfume is the best for me? There are so many available that I get very confused.

Georgia M.
Body chemistries vary, so the scent that smells delicious on someone else may do nothing for you. It's also impossible to get a good idea of the scent by smelling the bottle. Instead, dab some on the inside of your wrist and wait about ten minutes. Then sniff. Don't test more than two scents at a time.

The type of person you are plays some part in the type of perfume you choose. Romantic women usually prefer florals or floral blends. Dramatic brunettes tend toward Oriental blends. Sophisticates feel happiest wearing modern blends. Sporty types like spicy and forest blends.

But whichever type you are, it's invaluable to give each scent the ten-minute sniff test.

YWCA Hosting District Workshop

Tomorrow the Warren Young Women's Christian Association will be serving as hostess for a District Workshop pertaining to the World Fellowship phase of the "Y's" work. Representatives from the Meadville, Titusville, Oil City, Erie, Pennsylvania, as well as Jamestown and Westfield, New York YWCA's will assemble at 9:15 a.m. for a day of study, discussion and planning for the extension and increased giving to the World Fellowship program of the organization.

Arriving to provide the leadership and instruction in the international outreach of the YWCA will be such prominent officials as Mrs. Jay E. Henry, a national board member from Charleston, West Virginia, who will be the convener of the workshop; Mrs. Rex Stowers Clements, national board member who will report on "YWCA-World Wide", and the World Membership Conference in India 1966; Mrs. Lawrence

Richards of McKeesport, whose subject will be "Music Around the World".

Noon luncheon will be served at the YWCA to the women attending the workshop.

Noreen Candice Ion Bride Of Larry Robert Eliason

The First Methodist Church of Warren was the scene of the exchange of nuptial vows between Noreen Candice Ion and Larry Robert Eliason on Saturday, May 20, at 1 o'clock. The pastor of the church, the Rev. James C. Cousins, read the double ring rites.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman C. Ion of 90 Masons Mobile Court, Warren, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Eliason of 359 Interstate Parkway of Bradford.

For the service, the church aisle was lighted by the glow of candles placed at every other pew; on the altar were vases of white snapdragons and pink carnations and banked ferns.

Presented in marriage by her father, the bride was gowning in a bridal dress of imported taffeta with a fitted bodice, scalloped sabrina neckline and saxon sleeves. The long skirt had a full chapel train attached at the waist. Highlighting the dress and forming the hem of the skirt and train were rich panels of Chantilly lace. A three-layer bouffant veil was secured by a sequined crown and petal headpiece. She carried an old-fashioned rounded cascade of white roses and stephanotis. For something old, she chose her grandmother's wedding ring.

The maid of honor, Miss Cynthia Eliason of Bradford, sister of the groom, was gowning in powder pink linen. Dressed identically to the honor attendant were the bridesmaids, Miss Suzanne Christensen, a cousin of the bride; and Miss Constance Maraxioti of Bradford. The maid of honor carried a pendulum of pink miniature carnations and baby's breath on a velvet ribbon; the bridesmaids also carried velvet ribbon pendulums of pink daisies and pink carnations. All wore pink picture hats.

Lee Eliason, brother of the groom, was the best man, and Jerry Huling, Harold Cline of Bradford were ushers. The mother of the bride wore a three-piece pink suit with

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Most of your complainers are women—married women, which is no surprise because every married woman in the United States is dissatisfied with her lot. It makes no difference if she is rich or poor, ugly or beautiful, she is dissatisfied.

The world is changing and I think it's time the social structure changed, too. Marriage is no longer mutually beneficial. Furthermore, if a man marries a woman for sex, he is really a fool, because most men get more sex before marriage than after.

The following lines are from a sound track which could have been made in any block in the United States. Of course, it is the wife who speaks:

"You don't stay home enough. Why did you get married if you want to run around all the time?"

"I am getting sick and tired of staying home. If I don't hear some adult voices once in a while I'll crack up."

"Your manners are terrible."

"We don't NEED a new car. We need new carpeting."

"Why don't you take your son to the ball game instead of those drunken bums you call friends?"

"All you think about is sex."

"If you don't pay some attention to me, you're going to regret it. After all, I'm not made of stone."

To you newly-weds who are now saying to yourselves, "OUR marriage is not like that," I say, "Just wait, it's a matter of time."—NOT MARRIED AND GLAD OF IT

DEAR NOT MARRIED: I'm glad, too. Do some nice girl a big, fat favor, and stay single. A man who has such a low opinion of women would make a mighty poor husband.

matching accessories. Her corsage was of white sweetheart roses with a touch of pink. The mother of the groom selected an ensemble of celery green with champagne accessories and a corsage of red sweetheart roses. Mrs. Jay Catlin, great-great aunt of the bride was remembered with a corsage of white daisies.

A reception was held in Dunman parlors of the church. Two hundred guests were in attendance. Decorations were carried out in pink and white streamers with white wedding bells.

Aides were Mrs. Steven Summers, Miss Marsha Frohnappel, Miss Nancy Vicini, Mrs. Robert Martin and Miss Deborah Frohnappel.

For a wedding trip to Niagara Falls and Canada, the new Mrs. Eliason wore a flowered suit with beige accessories, Mr. and Mrs. Eliason are now at home to their friends at 63 South avenue, Bradford.

The bride is employed by the Bell Telephone Company, and the groom, who attended the University of Pittsburgh, is now associated with the Eliason Insurance Company of Bradford. Pre-nuptial affairs were given by Miss Cynthia Eliason and Miss Constance Maraxioti; Mrs. Esther Beach, Mrs. Elmer Christensen and Suzanne Christensen; Mrs. Ralph Wert, Mrs. Steven Summers, Miss Nancy Wert and Miss Lynda Wert; Mrs. Lee Frohnappel, Miss Marsha Frohnappel and Miss Deborah Frohnappel. Out of town guests attended from Ashland, N.J., Falconer, N.Y., Wellsville, N.Y., Clairton, Pennsylvania, Pleasantville, Bradford, Cochran, Erie and Kane.

Thursday's TV Highlights

COLISEUM at 7:30 p.m. on Chs. 4, 35, and 10 presents the 1967 Pacific Championship Indoor Rodeo, starring Roy Rogers and Dale Evans as host and hostess and featuring the singing of the New Christy Minstrels. Rodeo events will be bareback bronc riding, Brahma bull riding, steer wrestling and calf roping.

STAR TREK at 8:30 p.m. on Chs. 2, 6, and 12 has the second half of a repeat, "The Menagerie." Determined to clear his former captain of an insubordination charge, Mr. Spock devises a startling reenactment of the 13-year-old incident. Jeffrey Hunter and Susan Oliver are guest stars.

BEWITCHED at 8:30 p.m. on Ch. 7 repeats "Sam in the Moon," in which Samantha's remark that she used to visit the moon causes husband Darrin grave concern.

CBS THURSDAY NIGHT MOVIE is a re-screening of "Sail a Crooked Ship," starring Robert Wagner, Dolores Hart, Carolyn Jones, Frankie Avalon and Ernie Kovacs. The hilarious comedy concerns a bungling burglar and his motley crew who put a moth-balled Liberty ship into service and sail into Boston to rob a bank.

BEATY'S FRESHMAN DAY

The display case at Beaty Junior High School features the theme to be carried out tomorrow as annual Freshman Day rolls around. Students in the 9th grade take over at 8:30 a.m. for a special assembly. A dance at 8 p.m. in the Beaty band room will wind up the activities. (Photo by Mansfield)

Rotary President's Dinner Held at Saybrook Center

Warren Rotary Club's annual president's dinner, held Monday evening at St. Paul's Center, Saybrook, with 89 members and guests attending.

Dr. P.H. Augustine, of East Springfield, Pa., spoke on his observations during his visit to Russia.

Past president John Kofod was master of ceremonies. William Lutz and Arthur Lydell led group singing. Past president Donald Spencer gave the prayers of invocation and benediction.

Guests from the Sheffield Rotary Club included Mr. and Mrs. Bob Jones and the Rev. Fr. John T. Carter.

During award ceremonies past president Donald Spencer put a Rotary past president's emblem on president Norman Johnson's coat lapel. President Johnson formally turned over his gavel to incoming Rotary president, Henry Powell.

A special award of a handsome pen and pencil desk set was presented to "Mr. Rotary," Neil Culbertson, who has a record of 12 years perfect attendance every week, except two weeks spent in the hospital which is not counted.

Dr. Augustine's formal schooling includes study in Indiana, Michigan, B.S. from Edinboro State College, and M. Ed. from University of Pittsburgh. He studied psychometrics at Columbia University, and received his doctorate from Pennsylvania State University. He has been a schoolmaster, high school principal, director of guidance and educational supervisor. He is on the summer staff at Pennsylvania State University. He spent 11 years counseling in public schools and is a marriage counselor. He is presently education supervisor and director of elementary education.

Dr. Augustine's honors include election of Phi Delta Kappa and Iota Alpha Delta. He belongs to many education associations and learned societies. He is an ordained minister and pastor of the E. Springfield Federated Church; moderator of Community Christian Federated Churches.

Married, with three children, Augustine has traveled extensively in Europe, the Holy Land, Alaska and in Russia.

He has lectured in many universities and in cities throughout the United States on emotional development of youth and other problems in America.

In his tour of Russia, Dr. Augustine was able to visit with the top national administrator of education, and many other officials and teachers. He observed many deficiencies and inequities in Russian education, but was able to exchange ideas freely with Russian educators.

Augustine was deeply moved by the tremendous price paid by many Russians for their faithfulness to their religious convictions and attendance at church. They sacrifice all benefits, preferences and are delegated to the most distasteful jobs. Their children are denied education. Persecution takes many subtle forms.

He also found considerable disillusionment among many in the national religion, Communism, a philosophy of atheistic hopelessness. The visits Russian people make to the tombs of Stalin and Lenin are religious pilgrimages, performed in utter silence.

Everywhere Augustine found friendliness toward Americans. Everyone recognizes the United States leads the world. It is their goal to approach America in every field of endeavor. Wherever the Augustines traveled, they were welcomed and ways found for them to attend concerts, churches and other events in spite of crowded halls.

After experiencing life in a dictatorship of communism, Augustine observes: "When I came back to New York I felt like kissing the ground. I was so grateful for America I would cry when I saw the American flag. I paid my taxes more willingly than I had ever paid them before, because America meant more to me. We may not be a perfect government, but I will tell you, beloved, it's the best the world knows yet!"

Seated at the speakers table were: Mr. and Mrs. John Mc Ambly; Mr. and Mrs. Everett Borg, Rotary president and Mrs. Norman Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Kofod, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Powell; and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kusse.

Officers honored for the 1966-1967 Rotary year: President, Norman Johnson, vice-president, Henry Powell, secretary Lawrence Ekey; treasurer John Haggety.

Co-chairmen for the dinner committee were Frank Christy and Dr. John Jacka.

Beaty Sets Freshman Day Friday

By LEE KESTLER

Once a year, every year, the entire freshman class at Beaty Junior High School participates in what has become known as "their day."

Formally known as Freshman Day is the day when the 9th grade is literally in charge of running the school and it starts at 8:30 a.m. tomorrow. A first period assembly will feature the Class Will and Prophecy. In the former, students bequeath their most prized possessions and attributes to lucky underclassmen, while the latter is a look at class members as they might be in the future.

The assembly also includes silhouettes of outstanding freshman, the class poem, vocal and instrumental solos, cheerleaders and the Beaty dance band.

Following assembly, students return to their normal class schedules with 9th grade subjects to be taught by students previously elected by their classmates.

Presiding as principal for the day will be John Borger, Citizenship League president, aided by his vice president Mary Juliano.

The day's frolic will conclude with a Freshman Day dance at 8 p.m. in the Beaty band room with live music furnished by the Riot Squad. Since this is the last large function to be held at Beaty for the 9th grade class, a large turnout is expected.

HOUSING FOR ELDERLY?

Russell Taking Action On Old Russell School

Prompted by a recent newspaper article on the dilapidated condition of the Russell Elementary School Building, 34 Russell area citizens held a Community Action Meeting Thursday evening, May 18, to discuss potential uses for the building.

Discussion centered around use of the building for low-cost housing for the elderly, and a number of facts favoring such a project were reported. The Warren County School District, owner of the building, has recently expressed a desire to dispose of the building. A local architect reported that the building shell is sound and could be remodeled for senior citizen housing. James Weygandt, representative of the Farmers Home Administration, who was on hand for the meeting, reported that FHA has money available for such a project, terms of which would be 3 percent for a period of 50 years.

A Bomoh a Day

IPOH (AP) — Maj. Mailud Bin Haji Abdul Samad, commandant of the Malaysian infantry, had a collateral duty during a recent visit of the king and queen. The major, who is a bomoh, or medicine man, on the side, was charged with keeping the rain away.

The only limit on the amount would be current costs of construction in the Russell area. Another of FHA's requirements is the formulation of a broad-based steering committee of at least 25 members. Such membership could be achieved by each Russell area community organization electing or appointing two of its members to a steering committee.

After much discussion, the Russell Community Action group decided to conduct a survey of the senior citizens in Farmington, Pinegrove and Elk Townships to determine their willingness and interest in renting units in a housing project. Also, Russell community organizations will be contacted for their cooperation in appointing members to a steering committee. Preliminary drawings and cost figures for renovation of the building will be obtained. The Community Action group has requested the Pinegrove Township Supervisor to ask the Warren County School District to temporarily delay the disposition of the building.

The Appalachian Trail winds through the wild regions of 14 eastern states extending for more than 2,000 miles from Mt. Katahdin, Me., to Springer Mountain in Georgia.

to allow for study and analysis of area interest.

North Warren's Kiwanis Elect Joseph Kestler

Joseph Kestler was installed last night as president of North Warren chapter of Kiwanis. Other officers are Robert Benson, vice president; Joseph Gabriel, secretary; and Ralph Fischer, treasurer.

Special guest at the installation exercise was Frank Norman of Erie, Lt. Gov. of District I Kiwanis. It was announced that because of the holiday there will be no meeting next Tuesday. A work-bee will be held on that day at North Warren playground at 6:15 p.m.

Plans were also advanced for the new organization's charter presentation to be given at a dinner at Jackson Valley Club at 7 p.m. Tuesday, June 13.

Rex Chainbelt Promotes Hoefs

Dr. Ralph H. Hoefs has been promoted to the post of section manager of manufacturing development for the new Technological Center of Rex Chainbelt Inc., Milwaukee. The announcement was made by Warren J. Harwick, manager of research and development at Rex Chainbelt.

In his new post, Dr. Hoefs will investigate unique manufacturing techniques and processes as related to the development of new or improved Rex product lines. His new assignment has been made in line with Rex Chainbelt's expanding efforts to furnish its 20 operating divisions with increased research and product development services.

Dr. Hoefs joined Rex Chainbelt in 1955 and has held several assignments since then in various areas of the company's research and development laboratories.

He is a graduate of Purdue University and holds a degree in metallurgical engineering.

Senate Confirms

Among appointments confirmed by the Senate Tuesday was that of Mrs. Georgia Coyle of the Warren Public Library to the Advisory Council of Library Development.

Markets Routed Over Broad Front

(c) N. Y. Times News Service
NEW YORK — The recent retreat in the stock market developed into a full-scale rout yesterday. In the broadest setback in eight months, price declines on the New York Stock Exchange topped advances by 1048 against 225, the worst showing since last Sept. 21, when declines outnumbered advances by 995 to 170.

New lows for the year were set by 68 issues, while only 27 set new highs.

The Dow-Jones industrial average dropped 6.29 points to 862.42. This slightly above its lowest half-hourly reading at 12:30 p.m., when it was off 6.68 points.

Broader-based market indicators finished at their lowest levels of the day. The New York Stock Exchange composite index ended at 49.85, down 0.59 point, while Standard & Poor's 500-stock index fell 1.05 points to 90.18. Standard & Poor's utility index set a 1967 low at 69.07, down 0.70.

The New York Times combined average of 50 industrial and railroad stocks closed at 506.87, down 4.23 points.

Trading volume rose as prices fell. Volume for the day rose to 101.29 million shares from Tuesday's 9.81 million. Only four of the 15 most-active stocks on the big board were able to post gains. The strongest of this group was Seaboard World Airlines, which rose 2 1/2 to 36 1/4. Its volume of 121,900 shares included a block of 13,300 shares at 36. The other gainers on the active list were Texas Gulf Sulphur, up 1/2 to 12 1/2; AVCO, up 1/2 to 50 1/2; and Great Western Financial, up 1/4 to 12 1/2.

Control Data was the biggest loser among the active stocks, dropping 4 1/2 to 90 1/4. Pittsburgh, which has reiterated denials of merger negotiations, slipped 1 1/2 to 50.

On the American Stock Exchange price declined sharply along a broad front.

The index of stock prices dropped 25 cents to 18.60.

Of 898 issues traded 589 dropped and only 151 moved higher. The 589 declines were the greatest number in a single day since Aug. 22, 1956, when 597 issues showed losses. Yesterday's turnover was 4,004,480 compared with 4,392,695 Tuesday.

On the over-the-counter market prices also declined.

On the big board, Varian Associates slipped 1 1/2 to 38 1/2. The stock was a strong feature last week when a group of security analysts inspected operations of the West Coast electronics company.

Two oil issues made the most-active list. They were Jersey Standard, which fell a point to 61 1/2, and Occidental Petroleum, which dropped 2 1/2 to 56 1/2. Part of the recent strength in Occidental has been due to its discoveries of oil reserves in Libya.

Other losers in the oil group included Sinclair, down 3/4 to 70 1/4; Kerr-McGee, 2 1/2 to 114 1/2; and Continental, 1 1/2 to 68 1/2.

American Motors, the most-active stock with trades of 162,500 shares, eased 3/4 to 29 1/2. Glidden, second-most-active, dipped 1/2 to 29 1/2 on 134,000 shares, most of which came on a block of 76,700 shares at 30. SCM, Glidden's proposed merger partner, declined 1 1/2, to 68 1/2.

Sylvania Parts Division Appoints Plant Managers

The Parts Division of Sylvania Electric Products Inc. has appointed new plant managers at its Plastics and Wire Plants here, and at its Metal Stamping Plants in York, Pa. and Naugatuck, Conn., according to an announcement by Eugene E. Broker, vice president and division general manager.

The new managers are Raymond N. Anderson, Plastics Plant, Warren; Charles P. Smith, Metal Stamping Plant, York; Daniel H. Scheerer, Metal Stamping Plant, Naugatuck; and Joseph H. Vought, Wire Plant, Warren.

Anderson, who replaces J. Richard Krapfel, resigned, joined Sylvania in 1955 and served in various marketing positions until his appointment in 1960 as plant manager of the Metal Base Plant here. He has been York plant manager since 1963. He graduated from Kent State University in 1950 with a degree in business administration.

Falconer School Budget Hits $2,158,795

The board of education of the Falconer Central School District will present its 1967-68 budget totaling $2,158,795 to the voters of the district, at their annual meeting, to be held June 20, 1967.

The total of the 1967-68 budget, represents an increase of $311,071, as compared to the 1966-67 budget.

Tax on assessed value per $1000 in the Town of Ellicott be $31.11 an increase of $1.35, Ellington, $40.89, an increase of $1.50; Poland and Gerry $37.66 an increase of $2.42 and Carroll, $57.25, an increase of $3.68.

True tax value would be $14,3140, an increase of 70 cents per $1,000 above the 1966-67 rates.

Staffing of the new addition at the junior-senior high school, teaching and non-teaching salary increases and additional cost of supplies represent the major portion of the budget increase, officials said.

Fairchild Takes a Beating

BY ROBERT METZ
(c) N.Y. Times News Service
NEW YORK — The Hong Kong riots have led Wall Street to challenge the wisdom of Fairchild Camera's pioneering efforts to produce transistors and diodes with low-cost labor.

Traders, with an eye on the troubled British Crown Colony, have been pounding Fairchild Stock for three days. The shares tumbled 5 1/2 Tuesday, to close at 10 1/2. That represented a three-day loss of 13 1/2 in terms of the new shares issued last Friday after a 3-for-2 split.

Fairchild set up the 5,000-worker plant in Hong Kong about two years ago. The installation was followed by a plant in Seoul, South Korea, and one in Tijuana, Mexico.

The reason, according to Stan Fingerhood of Shearson, Ham-mill & Co., Inc., was to substitute cheap labor for relatively high-cost automated plants. Still another plant was opened recently in Shiprock, N.M., with American Indians as the labor force.

Fingerhood indicated that the idea had worked pretty well for a long time. Meanwhile, Texas Instruments has already written off automated transistor plants that compete with Fairchild's foreign operations. There are those who feel, however, that the plants might have been more productive if automation had gone more slowly.

Fairchild shareholders fear that the explosive situation in Hong Kong may lead to further trouble for the company. Already profits on foreign operations are down substantially. Fairchild is not believed to have earned, in the first quarter of this year, near the 35 cents a share that it made on foreign operations in the 1966 quarter. The actual figure has not been announced yet. Domestic earnings in 1966's first quarter were $1.25 a share, for a total per-share profit of $1.60.

Earnings were affected when the demand for transistors and diodes slumped in a period of transition of integrated circuits. The tradition in Hong Kong is to give laborers long-term commitments and, Fingerhood said, Fairchild could not lay off workers during a period of sliding demand.

Frances Kenny Retires from Penelec Career

Mrs. Frances O. Kenny, 312 Oneida ave., a 23-year employee of the Pennsylvania Electric Co., at its Warren District headquarters, will retire at the end of May.

Mrs. Kenny has been an employee of the General Services Department of the Warren office since 1944. Prior to joining Penelec, she was employed by the New Process Co. from 1933 to 1941.

She is a native of Green-brier, W. Va.

IBM Re-engineers the 1401

NEW YORK—What do you do with 9,000 obsolescent punched-card computers in a dynamic market for new machines? The International Business Machines Corporation may have the solution.

The giant computer manufacturer—which won't introduce its small business computer line until 1968—is offering a re-engineered version of its 1401 line at bargain prices in an apparent attempt to bridge the gap.

The machines, among other things, will turn out payroll checks and bills to customers in a trice. They are being offered at lease rates of $1,300 a month—about $500 less than the regular 1401 line.

On the other hand, I.B.M. is offering to sell the machines for a princely $92,000 or 70 times the lease rate—compared with the usual 50 times the lease rate for other computer equipment.

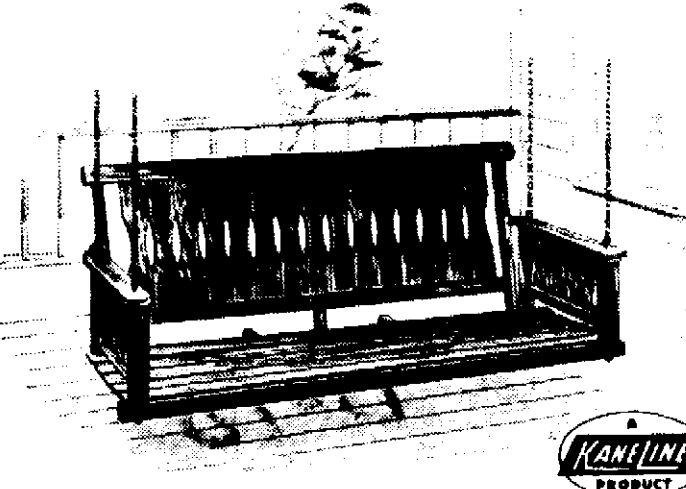

EDP Industry and Market Report, a semimonthly publication, believes the IBM ploy is to discourage purchases while keeping customers in the IBM preserve until the baby version of IBM's 360 is available.
